ALL HANDS WORKING PUMPS ON LEAKING SHIP OFF FLATTERY

Schooner Sophie Christenson Radios for Assistance—Is Wallowing in Heavy Seas—Seam Opened by Wednesday's Gale—Coastguard Cutter Snohomish Leaves to Assist

SEATTLE, Sept. 9.—A radio message to the coastguard tonight said that the four-masted Seattle sailing schooner Sophie Christenson was leaking badly and wallowing in heavy seas approximately 184 miles west of Cape Flattery.

"We can keep afloat as long as the ship doesn't open up any more," Captain John Grotley messaged.

GOES TO ASSIST

The cutter Snohomish was ordered to proceed from Port Angeles, and left at 6:45 p.m., and was expected to reach the schooner within fourteen or fifteen hours.

Another message said that the crew of forty-three men were at work over the pumps to stop the rising water.

GALE OPENED SEAMS

The vessel had been on the fishing banks off the Alaskan coast and was returning with 600 tons of codfish. The leak started several nights ago, Captain Grotley's message said, and during Wednesday night's gale their plight became more serious.

The Sophie Christenson, 675 tons gross, was built at Port Blakely, Wash., in 1901. She is 180 feet long, 30 feet beam and has a moulded depth of 13.4 feet. She is of wooden construction.

IN TROUBLE BEFORE

On August 17 the vessel was reported in distress and leaking off the Aleutian Islands, but the following day a message was radioed that "All's well."

Her owner, Captain J. E. Shields, said tonight he was not worried unless the vessel runs into another bad storm.

ELECTION NOT TO BE AVOIDED

Fifth in Sixty Days Expected in Germany Failing Co-operation

BERLIN, Sept. 9 (AP).—Germany seemed headed tonight for another election which nobody wants.

President von Hindenburg granted a formal interview this afternoon to Hermann Goering, National Socialist President of the Reichstag, and the three vice-presidents, Goering and Raub, but he turned a cold shoulder to the efforts of a possible Nazi-Centrist coalition to unseat the Von Papen Government.

He left no doubt he intends to stand by the Cabinet, and the only choice the opposition has is between dissolution of the Reichstag or adjournment pending further efforts to find a common basis for co-operation.

THE LITTLE EXPECTED

The President will receive the various party leaders in pursuit of such efforts, but political observers do not expect much in the way of results. On the contrary it is expected that the Chancellor will present a decree of dissolution before the Reichstag can vote no confidence next week.

This would entail a general election, the fifth major election this year, within sixty days.

WOULD WELCOME TEST

The greatest single threat, of course, is the National Socialist Party. Adolf Hitler is said to welcome the prospect of another election, confident he can increase the gains he registered in the last.

Hitler was in Berlin today, taking personal charge of the negotiations for an alliance with the Centrists.

As a remote possibility there arose a chance that General Kurt von Schleicher might be appointed Chancellor in place of Von Papen. At present he is the Minister of Defence.

Old Canadian Three Dollar Bill in City

A three-dollar bank note issued by the Bank of Clifton, Ontario, dated October 1, 1889, is possessed by Charles Hull, 1315 Garneau street, and believed to be one of the oldest of its kind in Canada.

The bill was given to Mr. Hull in Buffalo, N.Y., twenty-two years ago and is printed on very thin beaver skin with a picture of Queen Victoria in one corner and a scene of the Clifton Bridge at Niagara Falls in the center at the bottom.

The capital of the bank at that time was $1,000,000, and the place of issuing is given as Clifton, Province of Canada, which later became Ontario when the Dominion was formed. The back of the bill is plain.

SUSPEND WAGE CUT

MANCHESTER, Sept. 9 (AP).—The labor union in the cotton industry has agreed to suspend wage cuts when employers in the spinning mills postponed a wage cut which was to have taken effect September 17, and agreed to resume negotiations with the spinners Tuesday.

Tammany Pledges Democrat Support

ALBANY, N.Y., Sept. 9 (AP).—Tammany Hall's quiet-voiced leader John F. Curry, presented at today's meeting of the Democratic state committee a resolution pledging New York democracy to the "active and loyal support" of the party's presidential candidate, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, and vice-presidential nominee, John N. Garner.

The resolution was adopted, amid applause, without opposition.

Agreement by France to Germany's Request Regarded as Unlikely

OTHER POWERS ARE BEING CONSULTED

PARIS, Sept. 9 (AP).—Reports that France will refuse a bilateral arms agreement with Germany, circulated today as it was disclosed that the Cabinet will meet tomorrow morning for final consideration of its reply to Germany's request for arms equality.

Nothing official has been divulged, but it was believed that the French reply will say that this country cannot interest itself in increasing armaments, that France is interested in reduction of arms for reasons of security and economy, and that France and Germany alone cannot change the Versailles Treaty.

If Germany wants that done, it is contended, she will have to plead her case before the League of Nations.

IS CONSULTING OTHERS

During the preparation of this reply the Government has been consulting other interested powers, particularly Great Britain and the signatories of the European pact of confidence.

The German memorandum, delivered last week to the French Ambassador in Berlin, requested confidential discussions about arms between the French and German Governments.

IMPORTED SALMON MUST BE INSPECTED

OTTAWA, Sept. 9 (CP).—Regulations demanding the same rigid inspection of imported canned salmon as that provided for the domestic pack, are contained in an additional section to fish inspection regulations adopted by an order-in-council dated August 23 and made public today.

The order also ruled that all canned salmon imported for sale in Canada must enter by a British Columbia port.

PLEASUED WITH ARMEN'S WORK

Dr. Robert Millikan Gives Credit for Results to Canadian Force

THE PAS, Man., Sept. 9 (CP).—Immensely pleased with his work in Northern Manitoba, and confident one of his most important theories regarding the cosmic ray will be proven by records taken by Flying Officer R. C. Gordon, Dr. Robert A. Millikan, one of the five most important scientists in the world, tonight left for Winnipeg with his future plans rather unaltered.

Dr. Millikan expects to stay for several days in Winnipeg before going to Allendale, North Dakota. At Allendale his work will assume a new angle, in that free balloons will take the instruments up into the air instead of airplanes.

REMARKABLE CO-OPERATION

"We received remarkable co-operation from the Royal Canadian Air Force," Dr. Millikan declared in paying tribute to the work of the airmen. "It was principally through their efforts that we got the results I believe we achieved."

"The work we have just finished doing will never have to be repeated. No personal equation and the possibility of the human factor making an error shall enter into our work as it has all been done by camera."

Dr. Millikan did not know tonight before he left how long it would be before he returned to California. He will go from North Dakota to Tacoma, for the next chapter of his expedition.

President of Chamber of Commerce Appeals to Back Up Agreements

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Sept. 9 (CP).—"Now that arrangements between Government and business have been concluded through the efforts of the Imperial Conference, the time has come for common sense arrangements between business men, as well as the Government of Newfoundland and the Board of Trade here tonight."

Heading the chamber's delegation, which cruised to Newfoundland aboard the New-North Line steamer, preliminary to the annual conference in Halifax, Colonel McGregor suggested that "we should immediately endeavor to complete arrangements between business men, as well as the Government of Newfoundland and the Board of Trade here tonight."

In many cases, but legislation can only be effective when it has the solid and continuous backing of business men, as well as the statesmen, have to do our part."

Passenger Survives Airplane Wreck When Others Are Burned to Death

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 9.—Tightening of his safety belt saved George A. Davidson's life while his three companions on an airplane trip were burned to death when the ship struck the side of a mountain.

Pilot W. J. (Bryant) Robbins, of the American Airways, his co-pilot, Francis W. Briggs, and Victor E. Man, of St. Louis, a passenger, as was Davidson, were killed. The plane, wrecked yesterday morning, was found early today by two other American Airways pilots.

Davidson was burned on his hands and face, but suffered no serious injury.

The searchers found him about two miles from the plane. He said he was nervous as Robbins tried to pilot the plane over the Guadalupe mountain in foggy weather. As a precaution, he tightened his safety belt. When the plane hit the mountain, he was thrown forward and landed on his head and permitted him to leap from the plane an instant before it took fire. Almost in a moment, the other men were burned to death before his eyes.

TOO UNIMPORTANT

The Government did not immediately accede to the request, officials expressing the opinion that the matter was too unimportant to require such official treatment.

The embassy asked that the official statement assert that thorough investigation showed the charges to be utterly unfounded.

Officials of the bank explained that the photographs were taken in obedience to instructions from New York and that they were to be used as promotional matter illustrating business and industrial development in the Far East.

Lived in Victoria Sixty- Eight Years

James Pottinger Came to Victoria Sixty-Eight Years Ago

For many years a prominent businessman and a highly respected member of the city, who died yesterday at the family residence, 604 Battery Street.

Death yesterday brought to a close a long and useful career. When James Pottinger, 634 Battery Street, passed peacefully away after a gradual decline in health extending over some months.

Mr. Pottinger, who was born at Papa Westray, Orkney Islands, November 4, 1849, first came to Victoria sixty-eight years ago, landing with his parents from the ship Knight Bruce on Christmas Eve, 1864.

Vancouver Island was then a Crown Colony, and Confederation was considered to be but a hope of visionaries. The Cariboo excitement was at its height, and Barker's band was the gold capital of the world.

From those spectacular times to the present, Mr. Pottinger had witnessed events that were part of the history of the province unfold themselves. And with the history of the province he had close association.

Ten days after his arrival at Victoria he was engaged as an apprentice to the printing trade on The Standard, starting work the following day, January 3, 1866. The Standard was then under the editorship of Amor de Cosmos, one of the outstanding leaders in Colonial affairs, and later Premier of the Province. He followed the vocation which he thus entered upon as a boy throughout his long life, only engaging in other pursuits on occasions for limited periods.

Winnipeg Alderman Alleges Flagrant Dereliction of Duty in Manitoba

WINNIPEG, Sept. 9 (CP).—Alderman Thomas Fyfe tonight demanded impeachment of the members of the Manitoba Government and the board of governors of the University of Manitoba in connection with the delinquencies from university endowment funds.

"It is the duty of the Lieutenant-Governor to impeach the Government and the board of governors of the university for flagrant dereliction of duty," said the city councillor. "It is the only way to restore the confidence of the people in the province of Manitoba."

HAPPENING TOO OFTEN

"These kinds of things are happening too often in Manitoba. In fact, I do not think the public got the true facts of the case had robbery of duty," said the city councillor.

Mr. Fyfe, one of the leading laborites in the City Council, later explained the "robbery" he referred to was the shortage of $102,000 in the provincial treasurer's department several months ago.

The result of the two officials of the department being sent to the United States to investigate the matter.

In connection with the recently-revealed university shortages, John A. McLean, K.C., barrister and politician, yesterday afternoon stands charged with theft of more than $801,000.

Attracted by the lure of the Cariboo, then the scene of gold mining stampedes, he went to Barkerville after several years spent on The Standard, and there found employment in that busy community. He was there when Barkerville was destroyed by fire in 1888, and had many interesting stories to tell of the gold rush.

DE VALERA HAS NEW INTENTION

Will Put Time Limit on Proposal for Annulment Arbitration

DUBLIN, Sept. 9 (CP).—President Eamon de Valera of the Irish Free State will shortly issue final notice to the United Kingdom of his intention to impose a time limit on the offer to submit the land annulment dispute to international arbitration, he announced today.

If the United Kingdom agrees to his terms of arbitration, said Mr. de Valera, the annuity money involved, which now totals $8,000,000, will be transferred from the Free State to the United Kingdom.

Otherwise he gives warning the Free State will use the money for the relief of sufferers from the present "economic war" which arose out of the annuities dispute.

Dr. James Ryan, Minister of Agriculture, has prepared a wheat cultivation scheme which will require 10,000 tons of seed wheat this autumn. In keeping with its policy of economic independence, the De Valera Government plans to subsidize 100,000 acres sown to wheat next year, increasing annually until the limit of $600,000 is reached.

STRESA, Italy, Sept. 9 (AP).—Germany offered its remedy today for the agrarian ills of Central Europe under the understanding that it would be used if the proposals advanced by the French and Italians at the Danubian Conference here failed to receive approval.

The German plan would bar Poland from preferential treatment of grain exports accorded to Bulgaria, Rumania, Yugoslavia and Hungary. It also would provide for bilateral instead of multilateral agreements between the states concerned.

Fatally Injured In Car Collision

SEATTLE, Sept. 9.—James Mendenhall, Jr., twenty-one, a University of Washington student, was fatally injured on the North Trunk Highway, north of the city, tonight, when his roadster swerved out of control and struck another machine head-on across the highway.

His companion, William Hendrickson, twenty-two, who received a sprained back and head lacerations, said the car started "shimmy" when going fifty miles an hour and Mendenhall lost control.

BOILERS OF FERRY
HURTLE INTO AIR

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP).—With an ear-splitting roar, the wooden steamer Observation was blown to bits in the East River today, killing thirty-eight and injuring at least seventy of the workmen who swarmed its decks.

More than a score were still missing tonight as floodlights were brought up to illuminate the scene where divers and rescue squads still sought bodies of victims.

George Forsythe, pilot of the boat, was among the dead. His son, Alexander Forsythe, the captain, was put under police guard as a material witness while he lay in a hospital with a fractured leg and internal injuries.

Three separate investigations were begun immediately, one by the Department of Commerce, one by police and a third by the district attorney.

The fourteen-year-old craft, which served as a labor ferry during the week and a sight-seeing boat on week-ends, was transporting between 120 and 200 men to Rikers Island, where a $9,000,000 penitentiary is under construction.

It was twenty-five feet from shore when, without warning, the boilers exploded.

Those on the dock saw one of the steel drums hurtle into the air like a giant skyrocket.

IN CLOUD OF STEAM
The steamer was lost to sight in a cloud of steam and smoke. Mangled bodies were tossed like spears in all directions. One landed on the top of a ferry slip. Another was blown 200 feet onto the roof of a factory. Still another was catapulted onto the deck of a ferry. A fourth was shot like a cannon ball 500 feet over water and land. It struck the sixth-floor window of a power plant, then landed in a heap of splintered glass on the sidewalk below.

When the steam cleared the only sign of the ill-fated ninety-two-foot Observation was a mass of floating wreckage of two spears shaped like crosses, marking the spot where the sunken hull lay.

Shooting of Burglar
By Constable Found Justifiable Homicide

Was Killed After Resisting Arrest and Threatening Officer With Gun Is Evidence in Inquest —Attorney-General Orders Release

VANCOUVER, Sept. 9 (CP).—Returning a verdict of "justifiable homicide in self-defence in the execution of duty," a coroner's jury late today exonerated Ernest Priestly, special police constable, from all responsibility in connection with the death of a heavily-armed unidentified burglar who was shot to death near Hood Point, Bowen Island, early Thursday morning, while attempting to escape.

The unidentified man was shot after he had resisted arrest and threatened Priestly with a gun. After the slaying the officer was detained on a technical charge of murder, but his release was ordered this morning by the Attorney-General's Department.

Late tonight all efforts to identify the dead man had failed.

SHOOTING DESCRIBED

"I shot him, hoping to maim him and then capture him," declared Priestly, when describing the shooting to the court. He said that he had fired previous warning shots and called on the man to surrender, but his orders were disregarded.

Shortly before midnight a burglar alarm which connected several cottages on Hood Point rang in the Priestly home, he said. He had just retired, and immediately the bell rang he got on some clothes, armed himself with a small automatic pistol, grabbed a flashlight and went to investigate.

The alarm came from the home of Roy Shields, Vancouver insurance man, who had vacated it a few days previously. Arriving at the cottage, Priestly said he started a systematic examination of the doors and windows when a man leaped out of one of the windows.

He called on the man to halt, and pursued him. The prowler stumbled over a stone, he said, and his hat dropped off. Priestly caught up to him, again ordered him to surrender, but was ignored. "The man said 'Where is my hat?'"

"I noticed the hat at my feet," Priestly declared, "and handed it to him. He seized it with his left hand and had his right hand underneath him. When his coat opened I saw the cartridge belt and caught a glimpse of his gun. I tried to strike him with the butt of my gun, which continued on Page 2, Column 5

Drastic Action to Be Taken in Calgary When Unemployed Refuse Harvest Jobs

CALGARY, Sept. 9 (CP).—Work or jail will be the alternative facing the unemployed in Calgary from now on, Mayor Andy Davison announced today.

Shortage of farm labor in Southern Alberta has reopened a new campaign by City Council against unemployed who refuse to work.

Unemployed men applying for relief today were told to apply to the Government Employment Bureau.

Some refused to report and immediately were suspended from relief lists.

On instructions of Mayor Davison police were preparing to arrest all single unemployed men who refuse offers of work. These men, Mr. Davison said, will be charged with vagrancy and the city will press for jail sentences.

UNION POLICIES

Premier Tolmie Goes Into Seclusion to Study Plans Over Week-End

After a brief visit to his office yesterday morning, Premier Tolmie shut himself off from all departmental affairs, and will not be reached at his home or his office for the next few days. It was officially intimated. Before leaving, the Premier declined to add to his initial statement as to the adoption of the principle of a Union Government, but said that he proposed going ahead with his plans in that connection.

Hon. R. W. Bruhn, Minister of Public Works, who with Hon. J. W. Gieson, Minister of Finance, is a strong supporter of the creation of a Union Government, left for Vancouver during the day, followed by Hon. W. S. Loughheed last night. Meanwhile, reactions from party and non-party members from all over the province commenced to pour in on the Premier's office, coming from those of all shades of thought and all walks of life.

WILL BE INVITED

While there was reason to believe that the Premier and his Cabinet had definitely decided that invitations to join the proposed Union Ministry would be expressed to W. J. Bowser, K.C., former Premier of the Province, to the leader of the Opposition, and others, it was again repeated that formal invitations have as yet been expressed to none, and no resignations called for in the existing personnel of the Provincial Executive.

Two schools of thought would appear to have sprung up in Government circles.

B.C. OFFICIAL IS FELICITATED

J. D. Gillis, Assistant Superintendent of Education, Retiring

Closing forty-three years spent in educational circles, in the course of which he rose to a premier position among British Columbia educationists, John D. Gillis, retiring from the position of assistant superintendent of education, was rendered a sincere ovation at a reception held yesterday at the Legislative Buildings in his honor.

On behalf of the Department of Education, the school inspection service, and the staff of the Normal School, Hon. Joshua Hinchcliffe, Minister of Education, tendered the felicitations of his colleagues to the retiring official. Dr. S. J. Willis, superintendent of education, and other officials of the department, joined heartily in many expressions of good will extended to Mr. Gillis.

PRESENTATIONS MADE
A handsome gold watch and chain, suitably inscribed, was presented to Mr. Gillis, and a dainty beaded handbag to Mrs. Gillis. The assistant superintendent replied with feeling to the warm demonstration by his friends and well-wishers.

Few men have held a like record in public life. During his forty-three years in school work, Mr. Gillis rose from junior teacher to principal of a well-known Victoria school. From there he was promoted to the service of the Department of Education, where he served in many capacities in an ascending scale during twenty-six years active connection with the department. For eleven years he was a British Columbia school inspector, and for the last fifteen he has been assistant superintendent, under Dr. Willis. The reception was held in the Conservative members' room, and was widely attended.

MANGLED BODIES ARE SCATTERED

DOTTED WITH FIGURES

The oily surface of the water was dotted with black, struggling figures, motionless figures, others clinging to splintered timbers and shouting feebly for help.

A piece of the shattered pilot-house was floating far out in the stream. Hours later a strong tide swept it onto the beach at Long Island City, miles away. Three pairs of hands clutched its jagged edges in the rigid grip of death.

Several lardy workmen who had missed the boat, and one who had been dismissed for the day because of illness, were the first to turn rescuers.

RUN TO THE RESCUE

As they pulled limp and scalded bodies from the water, they were joined by men who came on the run from factory, street corner and docks.

As Alexander Forsythe, captain of the Observation, was pulled from the water, critically injured, he moaned: "The boilers exploded," and then became unconscious.

Fireboats, police boats, ferries, coast guard cutters, barges, a navy boat and private rowboats converged on the scene.

As the black figures were pulled from the water those showing signs of life were taken to an emergency field hospital set up on the dock in the centre of a circle of ambulances.

The dead were lined up on the floor of the ferry office. When clanging ambulances had gone off with all the injured, police turned to this line of corpses.

Pockets were searched. Union cards in most cases brought quick identifications.

Meantime, out on the river the scene had changed. The living had all been brought ashore. Now it was the dead they hunted.

Grappling hooks were distributed. More than a dozen rowboats set out. Back and forth they went, in and out between the cross-like spars that marked the watery grave of many. Every few minutes one of the boats pulled for shore. Each time one more chalk mark was put up on a blackboard in the emergency morgue. Then a large city barge anchored near the two spars and a diver went down to look along the river bottom for more dead.

When Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney arrived he recalled that at almost the exact spot the General Slocum, an excursion steamer, sank in 1904 with a loss of 1,021 lives.

The Observation was inspected in July, said John L. Crone, supervising inspector for the United States Steamboat Inspection Service. At that time, he added, the vessel was certified to be in perfect condition. Crone said there was a possibility that the use of salt water had weakened the boilers.

IN JOLLY MOOD
The workmen were in jolly mood when they started out. Today was pay day. Many had reported early. Twenty minutes later dozens of them lay dead or dying on the docks while nurses, doctors and priests hurried from one to another.

Graphic descriptions of the tragedy came from those who had been on shore, and a few of the victims. Albert Gray, an iron worker, said he had been hurried about forty feet into the air from the deck and plunged far under the surface of the river.

"It looked like a balloon rocket," said Max Monheit, a truck driver. "I saw the boiler shoot into the air. It hung there for a split second, and then thudded down into the water."

"When the boat exploded I went high into the air and then sank deep into the water," said William Donoghue, one of the survivors.

"When I came up again I was hit by a body coming down. Then I went down a second time. Coming up again I could hear the hiss of live steam."

COMIC RELIEF
A touch of comic relief was given the nerve-worn rescuers, as they worked over the victims, when John McCue came from the water protesting the loss of his trousers. Another victim, who was later rescued, had tried to cling to McCue's clothing and had torn off his trousers. Among the missing was Al Miller, one of the crew of seven, who collected 10 cents from each passenger. He was the only one who had a list of those aboard or knew of the total number.

All the men working on the penitentiary were dismissed for the day immediately after the accident so they could get word to their families of their safety. But all day hundreds of men, women and children pressed close to police lines, waiting for some word of their kin.

ASKS ACTION TO IMPEACH GOVERNMENT

appoint a judicial commission to investigate losses of university trust funds when Premier John Bracken returns to the city from the East.

Monday, Hon. R. A. Hoey, Minister of Education and Acting Premier, definitely announced today.

It is understood the commission may also be instructed to probe the extent to which university and Anglican Church funds interlock.

Anglican Church officials heated today to express an opinion as to how far they might wish to have affairs of their endowments made the subject of public investigation. The Government, in appointing the commission, is likely to give it a free hand, and if it is necessary to inquire into facts of one to fix responsibility for the other, it will undoubtedly be done.

ment circles as to the proposed methods by which the offer of a Union Government is to be made, and acted upon. Outright supporters of the coalition are urging immediate action to bring it into effect, with an early session of the Legislature and an appeal to the country without undue delay. Another section of the coalition are urging immediate action to bring it into effect, with an early session of the Legislature and an appeal to the country without undue delay.

The old adage as to marriage in haste and repentance at leisure was not far from the surface. In some quarters, as applied to a political wedding between parties that have been opposed and separate entities since 1903. Compatibility of political temperament, community of aims, and many other factors not easily evidenced, would be necessary for a union with any degree of permanence, even for the period of the depression; otherwise the orderly reorganization of party lines might be sacrificed for a new and uncontrollable series of cabals not entirely unknown to union ministers, and that have frequently brought about their defeat.

TO WIELD AXE
One spokesman of the Government made no secret of the task that would face a Union Ministry, of which, in principle, he approves. It would be asked to cut $2,000,000 off the annual budget of the Province. This would bring annual expenditures, theoretically, down to between $22,000,000 and $23,000,000, at which point they would be within sight of expected revenues for the future.

In its first year a Union Government would face a still more formidable task than the present Ministry for revenues received by the Province in 1932 on account of taxation applying to 1932 will be less than now accruing on account of the calendar year 1931. This applies particularly to the income tax, but would also be true of other forms of impost, where the volume of trade is concerned.

HAVE FORTHRIGHT TASK
Reduction of the budget by $6,000,000, as suggested in the Kidd

WARNED NOT TO DELIVER BILLS

Winnipeg Postal Department Claims Firms Must Give It the Work

WINNIPEG, Sept. 9 (CP).—Reduction in revenue is causing concern to the postal department here, and as a result business firms which are delivering their own bills are threatened with prosecution. The postoffice claims the "exclusive privilege of conveying, collecting and delivering letters," according to a notice sent out today by Thomas T. Bower, Winnipeg postmaster, who stated today he intended to get a ruling from Ottawa as to the term "Enclosed in envelopes," particularly as to whether this includes bills sent out in unsealed envelopes. According to the ruling of the postal department, bills enclosed in envelopes become letters, and as such must go through the postoffice for delivery. In the announcement it is pointed out the Postmaster-General had "issued a warning to merchants and others undertaking to deliver their own bills, etc., enclosed in envelopes, through their own delivery men, that they are liable to a fine of $20 for each and every such letter."

report, is so roseate an objective that no Minister of Finance would attempt to balance his books on that basis. Even to cut $2,000,000 below the $5,000,000 reduction made by the present ministry would produce heartburn in the councils of a Union Government.

That the Government has already gone some distance down the line of reorganization appeared evident from the fact that maps required for the consideration of redistribution have been already prepared, and contemplate a reduction of the House to at least thirty-five members, and possibly fewer than that.

With Premier Tomin remaining in seclusion over the week-end, likelihood of an early announcement on union proposals receded to next week, when time alone will show what actually transpires.

SHOOTING OF BURGLAR BY CONSTABLE FOUND JUSTIFIABLE HOMICIDE

is a .25 calibre automatic, but it was too small."

He then told how the man started to back away, pointing the gun, and told Ward that he fired and then aimed for the man's feet.

"He fell into the bush groaning," he declared.

Priestly then summoned Ernest Dempster, who had been aroused by the shooting. They found that the man's pulse had stopped. Leaving Mr. Dempster with the body, Priestly returned to George Ward, Union Estates constable.

MADE HIS STATEMENT
At Mr. Ward's home, five miles distant, Priestly surrendered his gun and told Ward that he wanted to make a statement, according to the latter's testimony. He then described the events of the night to the officer.

Ward stated that there had been a bad epidemic of burglaries on the island this year and much property had been damaged or stolen.

Four bullet marks had been found on the body of the deceased, Dr. W. D. Kennedy, autopsied, testified. He said that one was directly in the centre of the chest, one in the right groin and two in the upper part of the legs. The bullet in the heart was extracted, and this one was the cause of death, he declared. One of the marks on the leg was the point of exit of the bullet which entered the groin, it was stated.

COOL AND CONSCIENTIOUS
Priestly was described by his employers and residents of Hood Point as a cool and conscientious man who could keep his head in an emergency. The inquiry was conducted by Dr. G. F. Curtis, with Inspector John Shirras, of the provincial police, representing the Crown.

FANTASTIC PRICES FOR SMALL VALUE
STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 9 (AP).—Curio hunters packed the salesroom here today at the auction of the private possessions of the late Ivar Kreuger, Swedish match king.

The smallest objects brought fantastic prices. A pair of steel scissors with the match king's name engraved on them brought about $12 and ordinary kitchen kettles, worth about a dollar, sold for ten times their value.

that conflagration, as well as of other experiences in the district.

Upon the entry of British Columbia into Confederation, he joined one of the survey parties sent out by the Canadian Government to locate a railway route through the province. After working for several seasons in the interior valleys of the Mainland in this connection, he returned to Victoria, where, in 1875, he was one of the party that surveyed along the East Coast of Vancouver Island, from Four Mile, to the proposed last link of the trans-continental.

WORKED IN OREGON

He later went across the border and was for a time employed as a printer on The Portland Oregonian. Leaving that employment in 1881 to acquire partnership in the publishing of The Herald at Albany, Ore.

Returning to Victoria once more, he entered the service of the Provincial Government printing bureau as a compositor on December 17, 1884. In 1901 he was appointed foreman of the composing room, which position he held until his retirement in April, 1923.

A true typographical craftsman who delighted in the highest form of artistry of his calling; a man of ready sympathies and human understanding and of high principles, he was favored with a wide circle of friends, who will learn with deep regret of his passing.

LARGE FAMILY

Mr. Pottinger was married to Miss Clara Cameron, October 14, 1886, and their happy union was blessed with a large family. Their youngest son, James McK, made the supreme sacrifice in the war, falling a few days before the Armistice was signed. Surviving, in addition to his widow, are four daughters and two sons. They are: Mrs. R. M. Thompson, Regina; Mrs. M. Hirst, Nanaimo, and Misses Alice and Muriel, at home; and George H. and Claude C. Pottinger, of this city.

Nine grandchildren and one brother, David R. Pottinger, of Victoria, also survive.

He joined Columbia Lodge, No. 2, I.O.O.F., forty-four years ago, and for forty-seven years was a member of Victoria Typographical Union, No. 201.

The funeral will be held from the family residence on Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, proceeding to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, where services will be conducted by Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell. At the graveside the beautiful and impressive burial service of the I.O.O.F. will be held. Interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

WILL OPPOSE EQUALITY IN ARMAMENTS
It stipulated that Germany could not agree to the resolution adopted by the Geneva Disarmament Conference because it left open the question to whom the terms would be applicable to Germany as well as the other powers concerned.

URGED DISARMAMENT
The memorandum stated that Germany would not decline to participate in any general disarmament scheme if it were applied to all powers, and urged therefore that the other powers disarm down to Germany.

ONTARIO WILL NOT ALLOW BEER PARLORS

TORONTO, Sept. 9 (CP).—Some plan may be worked out for serving beer and wine with hotel meals, but drinking parlors will not be permitted, Premier George S. Henry of Ontario told an Ontario Hotelmen's Association delegation here today.

Turning down the hotelmen's request for permission to establish beer and wine parlors, Mr. Henry said it might be possible to arrange serving of the beverages in dining-rooms, but it would have to be done under Government control.

DISCUSS VALUE OF PUBLICITY

Real Estate Board Members
Feel More Information
Should Be Given

The Victoria Real Estate Board yesterday opened the season of luncheon meetings with a discussion of the proposal of a campaign in favor of greater publicity regarding the transactions that are taking place. The subject was introduced by Major Cuthbert Holmes, who felt that it would be of great advantage to the business if more news of sales, buildings, alterations to buildings and leases were to appear in the newspapers.

Major Holmes favored news similar to what he said was appearing in The London Times which gave information as to properties that were for sale in the news columns.

The matter was referred to the executive committee of the board to consider further.

Major Holmes, in his address, lamented the conditions that made people regard real estate as from assets. He felt that this arose from the fact that it could not be disposed of as readily as stocks and bonds.

DEALERS TO BLAME
H. D. Patterson, whose name was mentioned as being placed in charge of the collecting of such information, pointed out that this would take a lot of time if there was not the co-operation of the real estate firms. He pointed out that the real estate firms were much to blame themselves for not giving out the information.

B. S. Heisterman agreed that there had been too great reluctance on the part of dealers to release information as to transactions.

Heisterman agreed that the lack of interest was due largely to the dealers themselves. He also felt that too much stress was laid on sacrifice when advertising. Instead of urging the desirability of the property from the standpoint of its residential or business location.

MUST CO-OPERATE
F. E. Pemberton felt that the assistance of all the dealers was necessary. It could not be expected that the best results would be forthcoming if co-operation were not effected.

Alfred Carmichael was attracted to the suggestion made that real estate should be more liquid as a form of investment. He felt that it was the foundation of all values.

Highland Events Offer Much Interest at Fair

Vancouver and district, Seattle and Vancouver Island centres are all sending competitors to the Highland events to be held in connection with the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society's annual exhibition to be held next Wednesday afternoon at Saanichton.

Piping contests for pipers under twenty-one years of age have been held for the last several years in connection with the dancing, and have always been very popular, so that the Highland events are becoming constantly bigger and better.

The exhibition society has always been enthusiastic in securing an enthusiastic committee to take charge of these events, and such men as Colin Chisholm, Alex McDonald, Richard Nimmo, Nat Gray, Charles Wilson, Donald Cameron and others have aided greatly in the building up of interest in the dancing and piping contests. This year the committee is convened by Richard Nimmo, among the other members being Donald Cameron, J. A. Dewar, R. Bryden, Ian Douglas and A. G. Smith, with the secretary of the fair, S. Stoddart, helping in every way.

OAK BAY SHOWS GAINS IN PUPILS

Schools Open This Term With Increased Number in Attendance in All Grades

The attendance in the schools of Oak Bay at the opening of this term indicates that the population of the municipality remains little altered from what it was last year. The school population has slightly increased, it is revealed.

With the opening of the schools this week there have been enrolled 332 pupils in Monterey School, 283 in the Willow, and 294 in the high school. In each of the primary schools, according to Captain F. O. Dexter, supervising principal of the Monterey and Willow schools, there are twenty more pupils in these two schools than was the case in the corresponding period last year. The attendance, of course, varies through the term and there may be a change before the close of the year, either along the line of a slight increase or decrease.

In the technical school the number from the two intermediate and from the high schools is somewhat larger than last year, showing a tendency to take practical subjects. The enrollment of 294 in the high school this term compares with 265 at the opening of the term last year. The attendance at the other members, however, it is pointed out, varies often more than does that in the lower grades. There is a fluctuation going on in attendance all year at the high school, due to pupils dropping out and others coming in from outside.

ORGANIZE NEW CREDIT BODY

Constitution of Association
Outlined at Luncheon
Meeting Here

Initial steps towards the formation of the Credit Granters' Association of Victoria were taken yesterday at a luncheon meeting in Spencer's dining-room when local men interested in retail credit and credit managers of several Victoria firms gathered.

J. Morse Hatt acted as chairman and outlined to the gathering the aims and objects of the newly formed body. He stressed the vital need of a credit granters' association in Victoria at the present time, stating that the new organization intended to enroll into its membership credit managers of all local concerns and have them meet weekly.

AIMS AND OBJECTS
The aims and objects he enumerated as follows: To promote closer relation among members and the interchanging of ideas and offering mutual assistance in the extension of credit and collection of accounts; to promote good fellowship among credit granters by periodical meetings; to promote the exchange of credit information among members and adopt measures as will work for uniformity and protection in granting credit; to promote publicity to educate the public to the necessity of prompt payment of bills, and to establish or control one central credit information bureau.

PROVISIONAL DIRECTORS
The constitutional by-laws of the body were also read, after which the entire plan was approved by the meeting and the provisional directors ordered to proceed with the selection of officers at a special meeting in Spencer's next Tuesday. Following are the directors: James Fletcher, Robert Jamieson, J. Hatt, Charles Banner, Oliver Prentice, O. M. Perkins, E. Harrison, G. A. A. Hedden and Stanley Moore. Regular luncheon meetings will be held on Fridays.

WANTS CREDITS FROM DOMINION

Mayor Leeming Suggests Province Take Advantage of Bill for Relief

Mayor David Leeming, addressing the public works committee of the City Council yesterday on matters arising out of the Calgary conference with Premier R. B. Bennett, declared that immediate measures must be taken to assist the municipalities to shoulder the burden of unemployment relief costs this winter and he suggested that the Provincial Government take advantage of the provisions of Bill 72 to extend credit to the towns and cities of the province to prevent a crisis.

Mayor Leeming said he understood that Hon. J. W. Ross, Provincial Minister of Finance, was arranging a meeting of representatives of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities to discuss these matters. The date of the meeting has not yet been announced.

NATIONAL POLICY
His Worship, in giving a verbal report of the proceedings at the Calgary conference, intimated the municipalities had made some headway in matters of relief, but he averred the whole discussion between the Western representatives and the Premier had been wholly along constitutional lines and the Premier had indicated by his remarks that the unemployment relief could not become a national question until every one of the nine provinces were agreed on that policy.

Mayor Leeming was not able to say what the Premier would do when he returns to Ottawa, especially in the matter of percentage of cost to be borne by the Federal Government. It was not likely, he said, that he would advise his constituents that the Government assume 50 per cent instead of the one-third.

WINS RENEWAL OF FELLOWSHIP

Dr. Alfred E. Clarke, of Victoria, Is Honored by National Research Council

Alfred E. Clarke, B.A., M.Sc., Ph.D., a native son of Victoria and educated in the Victoria Public and High Schools, has been awarded a renewal of his fellowship by the National Research Council of America for the year 1932-33 and is selected to present a paper before the International Congress of Genetics, held at the Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y., during the past week. His paper, "Some Cytological and Genetical Studies in the Genus Melilotus," was very favorably received.

CURRENCY SYSTEMS

The plethora of suggestions which has flooded newspapers and periodicals during the past year, emanating from theorists and economists on the subject of currency systems, gives evidence of being on the decline. Out of the mass of proposals but little of real value has eventuated. There will always be those who dream of adjusting currency and credit to human needs, "by some formula of the future which shall be automatic." Most of such theorists have a mathematical bent, and they give their "propositions" an air of being precise by moulding them in algebraic form. In effect, as one critic says, they take the quantity principle for granted, "yet reserve the right to repudiate that principle whenever the necessities of the argument require it." Even those who rank among the leading economists of the time illustrate an idea underlying their theories of "establishing" a constant ratio between the output of goods and the output of money.

Here is how Mr. Charles E. Pell answers those who have been theorizing on currency systems. He says: "The fallacy underlying the idea of a constant ratio between the output of goods and the output of money lies in the impossibility of maintaining a constant ratio between the circulation of money and the circulation of goods. It might be possible to provide that with the production of every table or chair a corresponding item of currency should be created; but if the table or chair were destroyed this currency would go on circulating. And, whereas furniture usually goes merely from the manufacturer to the retailer and thence to the customer, currency circulates hundreds and thousands of times. If for every article of food produced a corresponding piece of currency were put into circulation, this currency would continue to circulate after the food was eaten, and a rapid process of inflation would result. No automatic method of taking off this surplus currency in such a way that the constant ratio between currency and goods shall be preserved has ever been suggested, or is likely to be. Circulation is too variable and uncertain a factor. The only available method is to watch the average index number and to stimulate or check the output of currency as required. This rules out automatism. For its accomplishment no fancy schemes are needed; nothing but the intelligent application of the well-established principles of banking."

COSTLY SHIP SUBSIDIES

There is some perturbation of spirit in the United States over the situation in which the shipping of the country finds itself. The need for economy has led to heartburnings over the manner in which the industry is being subsidized, and it is not clear that the returns expected are being secured. The subsidies are paid under the Jones-White Act. A proportion, up to 75 per cent of the cost of a new ship (and the maximum is almost invariably borrowed), is available for the shipowner intending to build new tonnage of approved design. The shipowner thus gets more favorable treatment than is given by the Government to any other industry. As well, the amount paid for the transport of mails is so large that scandals in this connection are frequently discussed.

The American Government believes that subsidies are necessary if shipping is to be placed in a position to compete with foreign countries and to overcome the handicap of excessive costs. There are constant complaints, however, because rich shipping companies can get "wonderful terms" for the construction of a new fleet and practically pay off the first cost in ten years entirely out of the subsidy for a mail service. Most of the companies which have benefited through the subsidies have been the rich lines.

A suggestion now offered is that the American Government should go back to the old "bare bones charter" basis on which the Shipping Board formerly worked with its various operating companies. It is explained by a New York correspondent that under this plan, "the shipyard would obtain the orders that they do now under the Act, that the ships would be run on American services and that the title of the property would remain with the Government." The suggestion is a retrograde one inasmuch as state ownership of shipping has proved so costly and unprofitable. The American Government has been a very heavy loser through state ownership. It has been a heavy loser, in fact, no matter what processes it has followed in the endeavor to foster its shipping industry. Instead of leaving that industry to find its own economic level.

CHINA'S INTERNAL TROUBLES

Count Uchida, Japanese Foreign Minister, has given some indications of the policy of his country as it affects China. His statement is significant, on the eve of a meeting of the League of Nations to hear the report of the Lytton Commission on the dispute between the two countries as it affects Manchuria. The Foreign Minister of Japan regards the conditions prevailing in China proper as indicating a "growing disturbance in her domestic administration, coupled with the rampant activities of Communist bandits throughout an extensive area in the Yangtze valley and South China." He sees in the anti-foreign, and particularly anti-Japanese movement, "further complications as likely to arise in the foreign relations of China, which in turn may make her internal confusion worst confounded." Then Count Uchida says:

"The whole world will rejoice should China realize the gravity of the situation, cast aside her ill-advised foreign policy, and adopt in earnest a constructive programme of devotion to the task of internal adjustment. It goes without saying that Japan, always conscious of the general interest of the Far East, will spare no effort to afford all possible assistance to China. Indeed, it is my earnest hope that the day is not far distant when Japan, Manchukuo and China, as three independent Powers closely linked together by bonds of culture and racial affinity, will co-operate hand in hand for the maintenance and advancement of the peace and prosperity of the Far East, as well as for the peace of the world and the civilization of mankind."

MR. JAMES POTTINGER

Victoria has lost an old-time citizen and British Columbia a pioneer resident in the death of Mr. James Pottinger. During his lengthy domicile here, and perhaps, too, because of the many roles of activity in which he engaged, the late Mr. Pottinger made many friendships and he had the faculty of retaining and strengthening them. He traveled here via Cape Horn in the days of early settlement and when life was primitive as compared to today. The lure of the West held him from the time he arrived in 1864 to the day of his death, and during a residence in this part of the continent of sixty-eight years, he engaged in many occupations, had varied experiences in earning a living and saw much of frontier conditions in olden times including excursions into the newspaper field.

The survey work on the location of routes of both the Canadian Pacific and Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railways. The later generation will recall Mr. Pottinger's association with the Printing Office of the Parliament Buildings. There he rendered long and faithful service with considerable ability in the printing craft, and in the position of foreman of the composing room always commanded the loyalty of those under him.

Mr. Pottinger was a man of great energy, as his versatile career showed, and even when sickness overcame him in his latter years of retirement his impulse was to be up and doing, often to the detriment of his health. He had an active mind, always kept abreast of the times in his knowledge of events, and as long as his health permitted he was a regular attendant at the meetings of his fraternal lodge in which he took a keen pride and wholesome interest. A man of his type and likeable personality could not help making friendships. Very widespread and heartfelt sympathy will go out to his widow, his sons and daughters in the loss of a stalwart husband and father.

A RUSSIAN LADY

(Verses Written to the Countess of Wallendorf)
Lady, they say thy Native land
Lies, like the Minstrel's northern clime.
More stern than this clime of frost and flowers:
The stern cheer of Nature's powers,
And Beauty's powers of Empyre,
Gave feeble mind decaying bowers;
And lips like thine a boon may ask
Too heavy for frozen northern hues.
In vain weak mortals, say the text,
Seek grapes from briars or fruits from thorns,
And vain fair Wallendorf expects
Fruits from a withered northern thorn.

Time once has been; but, once o'er past,
Its date returns not in again;
The shadows on the dial cast
Proceed, but pass not back again.
Yet in this realm of softening day,
Where April wears autumnal hues,
Loved visions can awake at times
And mingle with forgotten dreams
The image of an earlier day.

The genial breath of waking day
Wakes the chill limbs and torpid hand;
And the poor hand attempts to show
What sparks remain in life's decay.
Fashion, fair Dame, at thy command
A sample (of) my earlier hand.
—Sir Walter Scott.

SUMMER'S QUEEN

There is one I would praise,
She who brings rain,
Cool in the pain of a dust-choked lane,
While under a dewy sheet,
She puts the pale flowers to sleep.

It is her hand
That makes a world of quiet
For us to wander and take Delight in:
Where the bright things of day
Have no place,
But are hidden away
By that hem of mist or shadow,
Stitched frail,
Her long robes trail;
While in the woods
Beneath their hoods
The sleeping foxgloves stand.
—Bea Howe, in Everyman.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Quoth Modestus, "I smell a rat.
Rajab, thou dost prevaricate."
—Butler.

My Dear R. B. D.—Always an interested reader of your column, would like to enquire where the guarantee of the Dominion Government of the banks is to be found that they will redeem their notes in gold?

Sincerely yours,
W. C. C. BURNS,
Sidney, B.C., Sept. 7, 1932.

Dear Sidney Reader,—Our circumstances at the present time are both unusual and propitious, for we happen to have in our possession two bills of different Canadian banks. The value of the notes is of no particular interest to anyone, not even of interest to our creditors (if any happen to be interested in our financial standing). On the face of the bills is printed a legend to the effect that the issuing bank will pay on demand the amount described on the notes. The inscription of the notes does not specifically state that they will be redeemed in gold, but redemption would not be complete if the bills were merely exchanged for other bills of the issuing bank or for bills of other banks. If gold were demanded gold would have to be paid, and if gold could not be paid the bank would be in a condition of bankruptcy. There is at least an implied guarantee to every bank bill holder that the paper he holds "is as good as gold."

We have not consulted authorities on banks and banking lately, but have a recollection of the fact that when the Bank of England was founded provision was made for redeeming in gold all notes issued—except under conditions which never were likely to arise, that is under conditions of emergency. The bills issued by the Bank of England bore a specified relation to the amount of gold kept in the vaults, but we believe an exact equilibrium between the notes in circulation and the gold held in reserve to redeem them never was established, nor, as far as we know, was the matter ever subjected to a test by the process known as "a run on the bank." As long as the credit of an individual or an institution remains unimpaired there is a condition of solvency. One of the chief assets of Canadian banks is public confidence in their ability to meet their obligations. If we have not made the matter clear to the mind of our reader, we regret still more that we have not more than two bills in our pocket, and that the two bills we have are of such insignificant denominations.

Commentators and critics in near and remote parts of the world are avidly discussing the late Imperial Economic Conference. There are as many differences of opinion regarding the results achieved or the results which were not achieved at the Conference as there are nations in the world and free traders on principle in Canada and Great Britain. The delegates who attended the Conference should be the best judges of the results achieved at the historical meeting, but the confidence of the best qualified authorities has not modified the scepticism of the critics in Canada, the United States, or in Russia. The Winnipeg Free Press is as doleful in its comments upon the results as it was pessimistic in its predictions before the Conference was held. Our contemporary's gloom has not been relieved in the slightest degree by the assurance of a bountiful harvest, by an increase in the gold output of the mines of Manitoba, by the shipment of millions of bushels of wheat and some other products out of the new ocean port on Hudson Bay, by the existence of immense schools of white whales in northern waters, or by the signs of return of prosperity as a natural consequence of all these phenomena.

But the real Gloom Gyps of all the free trade fraternity is The Terrible Toronto Star. The Star not only maintains that the Conference was a complete fizzle, but that it was a mistake to call it at all, for from the beginning it was rent asunder by internal dissension, disturbed by many quarrels between the representatives of Canada and Great Britain, and that its results were more likely to culminate in the disintegration than in the consolidation for business purposes of the Empire.

And just to prove how sympathetic the critics within the Empire and the critics without the Empire are on the subject, one of the newspapers published in Russia under authority of the Soviet Government declares that the Conference can have no other result than the disintegration of the British Empire—and it quotes as authority for its prediction the comments of the free trade newspapers of London and Manchester. Another authority who foresees the doom of the Empire is an American newspaper commentator—probably not so eminent an authority as the omnipotent Brisbane, but still an authority of note. This United States commentator declares that instead of the results of the Conference adversely affecting American trade it will affect disastrously Canadian trade, because Canada is a natural dependency of the United States, and might become an integral part of the United States but for the fact that the American government already has two many white elephants on its hands.

As a possible antidote to all this pernicious propaganda may we take the liberty of reproducing the opinions of a real authority on the subject, the published views of Mr. Neville Chamberlain? Here is Mr. Chamberlain's opinion:

We have achieved what we came to do, and I regard the result not as a national, but as a great imperial triumph. Individual agreements have been signed which will bring solid and substantial advantages to the signatories.

Our agreements are not aimed against others—rather do we believe that our greater strength will enable us to help others by our example and by the increased concentration of our power and purpose.

EMPLOYED WOMEN

Sir,—One is continually hearing of women holding clerical and other positions in cases where their salary is an unnecessary addition to already affluent circumstances.

This condition of affairs, especially at a time of this sort, is surely a stigma of selfishness when there are so many capable and efficient men on the labor market often in dire need and experiencing the added anxiety of trying to provide for those near and dear to them.

A CORRECTION

Sir,—There was an error in my letter of September 6. "Two, three or four thousands" should, of course, be "two, three or four hundred" as I have corrected in my letter of September 8, 1932.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

THE SECRET ROOM
There is in every human heart
A sacred, secret room;
A place hidden, set apart,
Where glowing memories bloom.

And there, when wearied or oppressed,
By strife of worldly ways,
We turn to find a sense of rest
In thoughts of other days.

Perhaps we prize them overmuch,
Those happy days that ran in rhyme,
Those by-gone days beyond the touch
Of circumstance or time!

For in this secret, sacred place
We love to muse a while
On those glad hours that held no trace
Of worldliness or guile.

And of its peace some vestige clings
When we return again
To earthly tasks; its echo brings
New faith to life's refrain.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

CREATING ENTRIES

Luck, plus a little foresight and accurate play, permitted Mr. Lloyd Smith, of New York, to make an overall grand slam in the hand of a hand as soon as the opening lead is made and the dummy is exposed on the table.

Neither side vulnerable.

South West North East
4♠ Pass 5♠(2) Pass
6♠(3) Pass 7♠(4) Pass

1. The correct opening bid.
2. Perhaps a slight overbid, although the hand is very tempting, as it practically assures not more than one trick in diamonds and has first round control of the other two suits.

3. Also optimistic.
4. Certainly an overbid. North has no right to anticipate that South holds the ace of diamonds.

West's opening lead was the club king, which was the ace in dummy, but before winning this trick, Mr. Smith planned his play with the object of, if possible, finding a place to discard his three losing diamonds. It was obvious when he studied the dummy that while it might be possible to establish the heart suit for discards of his losers, the question of re-entries into the dummy was then put in with the lead of the trey of spades, and the three diamonds discarded on the three when that suit was established, was a vital one. There was a slight chance. If the outstanding trump were divided between the adversaries and not more than four hearts were held by either, Mr. Smith thought he could see daylight, and thus planned his play.

For the second lead, he led the ace of hearts and returned to his own hand by ruffing a heart with the trump queen. There appeared a chance for the hand. He therefore re-entered the dummy by leading the seven of spades, overtaking with the king and both adversaries followed suit. No nothing prevented the making of the contract. Another heart was led and trumped with a high trump, and the dummy put in by the lead of the deuce of trumps for the lead of the fourth round of hearts, which dropped the three adverse stopper in that suit. Dummy was then put in with the lead of the trey of spades, and the three diamonds discarded on the three when that suit was established, was a vital one. There was a slight chance. If the outstanding trump were divided between the adversaries and not more than four hearts were held by either, Mr. Smith thought he could see daylight, and thus planned his play.

For the second lead, he led the ace of hearts and returned to his own hand by ruffing a heart with the trump queen. There appeared a chance for the hand. He therefore re-entered the dummy by leading the seven of spades, overtaking with the king and both adversaries followed suit. No nothing prevented the making of the contract. Another heart was led and trumped with a high trump, and the dummy put in by the lead of the deuce of trumps for the lead of the fourth round of hearts, which dropped the three adverse stopper in that suit. Dummy was then put in with the lead of the trey of spades, and the three diamonds discarded on the three when that suit was established, was a vital one. There was a slight chance. ## LEGIONAIRES VISIT MOUNTAIN RESORTS

BANFF, Sept. 9.—Bound for the national convention in Portland, Ore., over Canadian Pacific lines, some 200 members of American Legion posts in the states of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, traveling in a special train, spent several hours here this morning sightseeing and inspecting the Banff Springs Hotel. State Commander J. P. Ringley and Dr. A. F. Sarver, chairman of the transportation committee, are in charge of the party, which continued its journey west this morning to Vancouver, where the delegates and their wives will be luncheon guests at the Vancouver Hotel, leaving later by Canadian Pacific Steamships for their final destination.

The status of the churches in the various provinces is as follows: In New Brunswick the Roman Catholic and Baptist churches take first and second places. In Quebec, the Anglican Church is second and the United Church third. In Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia the Roman Catholic population is the larger. The United Church tops Saskatchewan and Alberta. The Church of England is first and the United Church of Canada second in population in British Columbia.

GERMANS LEAVE CROWDED CITIES

Figures Show Tide of Migration Turns Back to Rural Sections

BERLIN, Sept. 8 (UP).—The continuous stream of the German rural population to the cities during the post-war years was reversed into migration to the country during the last two years.

Thus, according to recent statistics on the migration movement of the German population, Berlin, the population of which gained between 48,500 and 105,000 each year from 1924 until 1929 through migration, lost 100,000 inhabitants in 1930 and 33,000 in 1931—that is, 6.2 and 0.77 per cent of its population, respectively.

HAS GREATEST LOSS

Strangely enough, the town which had the greatest migration loss in 1931 was Heidelberg, despite its romantic charm. The number of people moving from that city exceeded that of new dwellers by 4,412—a loss of 5.4 per cent of the entire population.

Other cities showing considerable losses are industrial centres of the Ruhr district—like Bochum, Gelsenkirchen and Duisburg, with unfavorable migration figures of 1.4, 1.6 and 1.4 per cent, respectively.

FIVE SHOW GAINS

Among the twenty-seven German cities above 200,000 residents, only five gained more inhabitants in 1931 than they lost through migration in 1931—namely, Stuttgart, Bremen, Magdeburg, Koenigsberg and Kiel. Stuttgart, the industries of which are relatively prosperous despite the crisis, had the slightest gain—3,400 inhabitants, or 0.9 per cent of its population.

The exodus from the cities is, of course, due to the economic crisis. Since no new jobs are obtainable in the industrial centres, they no longer attract the country population.

Major Leeming Returns—Mayor David Leeming, who has been attending a conference of representatives of city relief departments, appeared before the City Council at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The Mayor was not expected until yesterday, but a number of business matters needing urgent attention necessitated his leaving his earlier return.

Receives Pictures—Mayor David Leeming yesterday received photographs of their Excellencies the Governor-General of Canada and the Countess of Beaulieu. The one of the Governor-General is a photographic copy of an oil painting and that of the Countess is a true photograph. When framed the pictures will be hung in the council chamber at the City Hall.

Takes Speedy Trial—Albert M. Grice, charged with obtaining money by false pretences from the City Relief Department, appeared before Judge Peter S. Lampman in County Court yesterday and elected a speedy trial. Thursday afternoon next was set as the date for his hearing. C. B. Colvin will represent the Crown and C. H. O'Halloran will act as counsel for Mr. Grice.

To Discuss Poles—The information was given the members of the Victoria Real Estate Board at its luncheon yesterday that Mayor David Leeming had advised the secretary that the parties concerned in the erection of poles on the streets which was the subject of complaint from the board, were getting to be a nuisance and were ready to discuss the matter, the Real Estate Board would be advised of the meeting.

Saatchi List Grows—Up to 5 p.m. yesterday registration officials under W. O. Wallace had enrolled 6,610 names on the new Provincial Voters' list in Saanich. The special appeal made to holiday parties now returning to their homes in the seven municipalities has brought about good results, and before the close of registration next week it is anticipated that fair opportunity will have been given to all eligible voters in Saanich to place their names on the new list. Registrations to date are in excess of those shown on the former list.

Talk Irrigation—Disturbed by talk of a change in policy of the British Columbia Government, George Heggie, Conservative Member for North Okanagan, was in the city yesterday to confer with officials of the Lands Department as to continuation of the existing scale of charges in irrigation areas, along the line of the Sanford Evans report. Irrigationists desire assurance of some permanent rate in the rate of repayment for irrigation works and are asking a definite understanding as to the collection of these charges in the future. Mr. Heggie met Hon. N. S. Lougheed and other members of the Government.

Consider Farm Aid—One Dominion and nine Provincial advisory committees on agriculture will be created as a result of a Dominion-Provincial conference held at Toronto last week, with Hon. Robert Weir in the chair. J. B. Munro, deputy minister of agriculture, returned from the meeting yesterday, and said progress had been made in the co-ordination of Federal and Provincial services to eliminate overlapping. Hon. William Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture, Dean F. M. Clement and Mr. Munro were British Columbia delegates at the conference. Mr. Atkinson left Toronto last night for the Coast.

Airmanship Saves Life and Airplane

THANKS to his wonderful airmanship, Major James Doolittle, probably the most skillful aviator in the world, is able to survey the damage to his speedy Laird biplane while standing on his feet instead of doing so from a stretcher. While up for a test flight at Wichita, Kan., airport, Major Doolittle found that the plane's retractable landing was out of order, stuck inside the fuselage. Disdaining to use his parachute, abandoning the plane, the daring aviator manoeuvred the craft to a safe landing on its "belly."

City &amp; District

Will Enlarge Premises—City Building Inspector James Barf yesterday issued a building permit to Diggon's for an addition and alterations to the company's premises at 1208 Government Street. The work is to cost $7,772 and will be of concrete, steel and brick. C. E. Watkins is the architect and Parfitt Bros. contractors.

Canadian Claim for Origin Disputed—Just New Name for Bandalore

What, then, is the origin of Yo-yo? asks a correspondent of The London Times.

Has all this yo-yo mania come about because a bell-hop in a Canadian hotel was one day toying with an egg-cup and a piece of string and discovered casually that it (that is, the egg-cup) could be made to return up the string to the hand? If so, that bell-hop has as much to answer for as the first pair of rabbits introduced into Australia or as the first pair of musquitos introduced into this country. All these pioneers ought to sit down and take thought before they add to the world's pleasures or plagues.

A CANADIAN CLAIM

It was a Canadian lady who gave me this account of the origin of yo-yo. We are all inclined to claim for our own country the origin of historic social movements. I am not, however, altogether satisfied that this Canadian claim is good. Another suggestion is that the game comes from the Philippine Islands. The Filipino, it is said, for a long time for centuries in fact—kept it to themselves. Then some white man came along and so it got to California. And then the boom. If the credit for the revival of this kind of top-pastime rebounds to North America, there seems to be some reason for thinking it spread first to Buenos Aires, where the Prince of Wales tried it for the first time.

"WALKING THE DOG"

Well, it has now come to England—and with a vengeance! The country is yo-yo mad. There is no doubt about it. At a big store you may see a cash boy looking at a yo-yo, and in a scarcely surreptitious way, he is looking at a yo-yo.

And, now schoolboys and schoolgirls are again out of prison, you can see them everywhere "walking the dog" along almost the complete length of the string. It has been seen, too, on the lawns of the Squadron Castle at Cowes. One of the yo-yo player's ambitions, I believe, is to manipulate a yo-yo in both hands simultaneously. Does this leave attention for much else? "Around the world" is a yo-yo trick performed not without danger to those near at hand.

It really does seem that if our public servants like bell-hops, newsboys, ambibus conductors, and engine stokers take violently to yo-yo we shall have to have some restrictions. The yo-yo player, we are told, "adds to the gaiety and color of the lives of his friends." That may be.

SEEK REPLY

As a result of discussion on this matter, the following resolution was passed, to be forwarded to the council: "That the Saanich Council be asked whether or not the association is entitled to the courtesy of a reply or receipt of acknowledgment of the letter protesting the temporary employment of the reeve's daughter at the Municipal Hall, for a temporary period at the Municipal Hall."

Edward Wilkinson was elected president of the Ward Seven Saanich Ratepayers' Association, to succeed ex-Councillor G. Stanley Eden, who has held the post for the past three years, at the annual meeting held in the Tillamook School last night. Tom Sargent, a candidate in last year's election, was chosen vice-president, while the election of a president was postponed until the October meeting. James Pickard, who holds this office at present, acting in the meantime.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the retiring president and Vice-President Fred Appleby, for the able manner in which they have served the ward during their connection with the association.

Business arising out of the reading of the last meeting's minutes included a protest against the action of the municipal council in failing to acknowledge receipt of a letter from the association complaining of the employment of Reeve William Crouch's daughter for a temporary period at the Municipal Hall.

On accepting the presidency, Mr. Wilkinson assured the meeting that he would at all times do his utmost for the benefit of the ratepayers in the ward. He suggested a policy of having speakers at the regular meetings who might deal briefly with matters pertaining to the residents.

REQUEST INFORMATION

During the evening the secretary was instructed to write the council, requesting information concerning a report that unemployed in the municipality would have their water shut off by September 28 if accounts in arrears were not paid.

Speaking to this latter point, Samuel Taylor pointed out that hundreds of unemployed were barely earning existing wages and could not afford to pay their water bills. If such action was taken by the council, he asked the support of the association in protesting it and was assured by the new chairman that if it occurred, the council would receive a strong protest from the ward body.

Bolivian Offensive Repulsed

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Sept. 9 (AP).—The War Ministry claimed tonight an apparent major offensive of Bolivian troops in the disputed Gran Chaco border country was repulsed at Pozo Valencia.

Earlier official statements said strong Bolivian forces had made simultaneous attacks at a large number of Paraguayan strongholds. They said the defenders were holding on at all points but an intercepted Bolivian message was contradictory.

It claimed Fort Rojas Silva had been captured by the Bolivian troops. The message said the infantry followed up an hour's intensive artillery bombardment and routed the Paraguayans from the fort.

Tube Developing Million-Volt Rays

PASADENA, Cal., Sept. 9.—After weeks of careful tests on rodents the world's largest X-ray tube has been gradually stepped up until full million-volt rays are being used to treat a group of cancer patients. It was disclosed today.

It is too early, Dr. Lauritzen said, to comment on the effect of the powerful X-ray treatments.

'THE FIRST YEAR'
NOW AT DOMINIONCharles Farrell and Janet Gaynor
Star in New Feature Opening
Today

The trials and joys, the bliss and kisses of "The First Year," that most trying adjustment period of young love, constitute the dramatic motivation of Janet Gaynor's and Charles Farrell's latest Fox picture opening today at the Dominion Theatre.

"The First Year" promises a new Janet, petite and pliant as ever, she has forsworn the pathetic for the positive in her characterization. With a new hair dress, with smart modern frocks, she is said to bring an entirely fresh and inspiring portrayal to the screen in this, her first entirely grown-up role.

Farrell, too, is different. He will be seen as an ambitious young business man, harassed, it is true, by the difficulties of becoming established in a strange town, but on the whole a capable, energetic young fellow out to prove that he can make his way in the world.

EMPIRE "Sky Devils," the spectacular air comedy playing at the Empire Theatre, was filmed without a single serious accident. Although the film contains some of the most daring stunt flying ever screened, it was made without injury to any of the pilots. Two of the pilots who take part in this sequence crashed in mid-air but both were saved by "bailing out" and landing in their parachutes. Spencer Tracy, William Boyd and George Cooper play the title roles, supported by Ann Dvorak, Billy Bevan and Yola D'Avril.

PLAYHOUSE "Strangers in Love," new hit co-starring Fredric March and Kay Francis now at the Playhouse Theatre, requires the star of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" to portray an

Crash Head-On at Full Speed

THIS head-on collision of two freight locomotives was staged at the State Fair at Des Moines, Iowa, to provide a thrill for depression entertainment. A crowd of 55,000 persons came to see the spectacle in spite of a cold, steady rain. Several miles of baggage had been pulled for the crash, which took place before the grandstand. Firemen and engineers of the two locomotives jumped to safety from their cabs a few seconds before the collision.

Record Attendance at Cobble Hill Fall Fair

Increase Shown in Entries in Various Classes—
Fruit and Vegetables Especially Good—Successful Gymkhana Held in Connection

COBBLE HILL, Sept. 9.—A record attendance and the most interesting show in years marked the opening of the Fall Fair, this afternoon, by C. H. Dickie, M.P. There was an increase in entries and many excellent exhibits, especially in the fruit and vegetable classes. Crossland Bros., Duncan, had a display of flowers and Mr. Vos, Cobble Hill, showed his fox pelts.

The judges for the various classes were as follows: E. W. White, district horticulturist, for fruits, vegetables and flowers; Professor E. M. Straight, superintendent of the Sidney Experimental Station, for field crops; Mr. Hall, assistant superintendent at the Sidney Experimental Station, for livestock; Mrs. J. H. Whitmore, ladies' work; Mrs. E. M. Straight and Mrs. Hall, domestic science, juvenile classes, art and dairy products; G. R. Wilson, poultry; W. Hagger, eggs and G. Frayne, rabbits.

Mrs. H. G. Grainger and Miss H. Macklin were in charge of the ladies' work; Captain T. Wilkinson looked after the poultry, and W. Bell the livestock.

Mrs. Mudge was in charge of the lunch and tea and was assisted by Mrs. G. A. Cheeke, Mrs. F. T. Elford, Mrs. F. T. Oldham, Mrs. W. Aldorf, Mrs. E. C. Nightingale, Mrs. F. Porter and Miss F. Oldham. A Fall Fair dance was held in the evening under the management of the Cobble Hill dance committee, in aid of the new supper-room. A local orchestra furnished the music and the Cobble Hill Women's Institute looked after the supper.

Double Wedding Takes Place at First United

Misses Greta and Maeford Kerr Married to Mr. Arthur Partridge and Mr. Douglas Cavaye in Presence of Many Friends

The First United Church was the scene of a double wedding last night at 8:30 o'clock, when Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., performed the marriage for Greta Kerr, elder daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kerr, of Regina and Victoria, and Mr. Arthur Partridge, of the Civil Service Commission, younger son of Mr. S. H. Partridge, of Victoria, and for Maeford Euphemia, sister of Miss Greta Kerr, a graduate nurse of the 1928 class of the Provincial Jubilee Hospital, who was married to Mr. Douglas Cavaye, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Chilliwack, second son of the late Mr. A. Cavaye, and of Mrs. Cavaye, Portobello, Edinburgh, Scotland.

PRETTY DECORATIONS
For the occasion the church had been artistically decorated in a sort of early autumn flowers by Miss Marjorie Sward and a number of girl friends of the brides. A central archway, beneath which the brides stood, was decorated with white chrysanthemums and pink dahlias. Michaelmas daisies and jasmies were arranged in front of the platform, and the guest seats were tied with clusters of pink sweet peas, jasmies, and large bows of white tulle. A stringed orchestra played during the service, and as the register was being signed, Mr. Frank Partridge sang "If I Might Come" (Squires).

Miss Greta Kerr, until recently a member of the Provincial Department of Education, was given in marriage by Mr. J. M. Fraser, an old family friend, and her sister was accompanied by her uncle, Mr. E. J. Martin. They were dressed alike in becoming frocks of white lace and taffeta, the former of wool lace, the latter, silk, and they wore embroidered veils arranged to show blossoms and carried shower bouquets of pale yellow roses, pink carnations, cream sweet peas and white heather. The brides were attended by Miss Marjorie Sward, a maid of honor, and Miss Marjorie Sward, a maid of honor, and Miss Marjorie Sward, a maid of honor.

RECEPTION HELD
A reception was held afterwards at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Fraser, 1522 West End Avenue, where the decorations were most attractive, being the handiwork of Mrs. Ross Wilson, of Seattle. The

Vancouver Wedding Is Of Interest

Victoria friends of the bride will be interested in the wedding which took place on Wednesday afternoon at the Canadian Memorial Church, Vancouver, when Gertrude O. Pallas officiated, when Gertrude O. Pallas, only daughter of the late Mr. Joshua E. Umbach, former surveyor-general of British Columbia, and Mrs. Umbach, of 1901 West Sixth Avenue, Vancouver, formerly of this city, became the bride of Mr. Ralph E. C. Lord, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lord, of Red Deer, Alberta.

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. D. H. Harvey Fry, of Seattle, and she wore a beautiful imported model gown of peau d'ange lace with a faint rose sheen, with touches of fuchsia shade, made on long graceful lines, with a girle of interwoven fuchsia velvet. Her hair was styled in waves, and she wore a black and white dress with a black and white sash.

BRIDAL ATTENDANT
Miss Jeanie Wilkinson Brighouse, the bridemaid, wore a gown of platinum grey with touches of cream, and a short jacket of velvet on her orchid-shaded velvet veil. The bride's bouquet was of white heather and lilies with a corsage of the same vivid shades.

After the reception held following the ceremony, Mrs. Lord and Mr. Lord left for a motor trip before leaving for Red Deer, where they will reside. The bride's going-away suit was a smart black and white dress with a black and white sash and a black and white hat.

I.O.D.E. Activities

Navy League Chapter
The Navy League chapter met yesterday afternoon at headquarters, the regent, Mrs. Mortimer Appleby, in the chair. Routine business was in order and reports of National and Provincial Chapters read. Mrs. G. L. Ford, the educational secretary, read an interesting report and it was decided to donate the necessary amount toward the I.O.D.E. bursary at the high school. The sum of $5 was voted towards the Mary Croft Memorial cot at the sum of $5. Mrs. E. O. Weston, the treasurer, announced that $10 will be given towards the Sea Cadets' Summer camp fund. The Cross of Sacrifice and the memorials in the cemetery were decorated during the summer. A rummage sale will be held on September 24. Gordon Smith was elected to represent the chapter at the Trail meeting.

Brentwood

Miss "Jo" Plasher, of Victoria, spent the week-end as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. Rochon, Mount Newton.

Red Cross Ball Is Most Brilliant Social Event

Their Excellencies Greeted by President of Vancouver Society and Escorted by Seaford Highlanders to Beautifully Decorated Ballroom

VANCOUVER, Sept. 9 (CP).—The Red Cross ball held here to night was a brilliant climax to the first official visit to Vancouver of Their Excellencies the Governor-General and Countess of Beaulieu.

Arriving at the Hotel Vancouver at 10 o'clock the viceregal guests were received by Colonel W. W. Foster, honorary aide to the Governor-General, and a few minutes later they were greeted by Dr. G. A. Lamont, president of the Vancouver branch of the Red Cross Society.

A stately procession headed by Their Excellencies the Governor-General and Countess of Beaulieu, various orders that have been bestowed upon him, wended its way to the ballroom.

One hundred and seven Seaford Highlanders in pre-war dress uniforms provided an escort for the viceregal guests. The procession as it moved towards the marble stairway going down to the ballroom. A bugle announced Their Excellencies' arrival to the waiting hundreds and a fanfare of trumpets was the signal for the feminine guests dropping into the court d'art as Earl and Countess of Beaulieu arrived at the head of the stairs for "The King."

BRILLIANT GATHERING
A scene of glamorous formality greeted the viceregal procession as it wended its way through the crowded ballroom. Flags of the British Empire were hung about the spectators' galleries and intermingling with them was the emblem of the Red Cross Society.

In the main dining-room of the hotel, gorgeous Autumnal flowers provided a garden-like setting, and in this room supper was provided for the guests. Seated at the head table were Their Excellencies, Hon. Chief Justice and Mrs. Aulay Morrison, Brigadier and Mrs. Sutherland Brown (Victoria), Most Rev. Archbishop de Pencyer and Mrs. de Pencyer, Sir Richard and Lady Lake (Victoria), President L. S. Klink of the University of British Columbia and Mrs. Klink, His Excellency Mayor L. D. Taylor, Col. and Mrs. A. M. Brown, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Carrothers and Dr. O. A. Lamont.

Sooke

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Heigesen have returned from a visit in the Cowichan Lake district.

Mrs. M. Large has returned to Seattle, having spent a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. J. O. Noury.

Miss D. Colburn and Miss Joan Hunt entertained at a farewell party recently in honor of Miss Diana Osburn, who has left for Vancouver. The invited guests were Misses Phillips Cooke and "Pat" Hemmerson, Messrs. Rupert Sooke, Sidney Owen, W. Osburn and David Colburn.

Mrs. E. Horwood and family have returned. During their absence of two months their guests were Misses M. Spencer Barnes and children, who have returned to Vancouver.

COMMISSIONER HAY SPEAKS AT NANAIMO

NANAIMO, Sept. 9.—Commissioner James Hay, O.B.E., official head of the Salvation Army throughout Canada, addressed a capacity audience last evening in the Salvation Army Citadel.

He encouraged Salvationists by stating that the Army was making steady advance in every country of the world.

"The Christian religion," declared the commissioner, "even in its darkest day, is brighter than the brightest day of other religions."

The commissioner touched upon the Salvation Army's great social work among men and women and the countless little children throughout this country and those of other nations.

MARINE and TRANSPORTATION

IDLE SHIPS
INCREASING

Tonnage Tied Up Totals 35
Per Cent Advance
Over 1931

Idle shipping tonnage throughout the world totaled more than 14,000,000 tons on June 30. This is an increase of 35 per cent over the idle tonnage of a year ago. In the United States there were 3,425,000 tons, an increase of 31 per cent from the 2,601,000 gross tons tied up on June 30, 1931.

Great Britain and Ireland totaled 2,400,000 gross tons of idle shipping, as compared with 1,800,000 tons tied up a year ago. This is an increase of 7 per cent in idle tonnage in the period. Germany reported 1,452,000 tons idle as against 952,000 out of commission a year ago, an increase of 13 per cent. Idle French tonnage totaled 973,000 gross tons, as compared with 846,000 tons; and Italian tied-up tonnage totaled 847,000 gross tons as compared with 768,000 tons a year ago.

To complete the unexampled state of affairs in connection with shipping, it is necessary to take into account the unoccupied space in liners remaining in service. Definite information regarding the amount of this space is not available, but according to all reports, it was large.

The Mid-Year Review World Shipping shows that world shipbuilding activities are about 40 per cent under a year ago. On June 30, 1932, there were a total of 1,108,000 tons of steel steamers and motor ships under construction in the principal shipbuilding countries, as compared with 1,419,000 tons on June 30, 1931. As the end of June

BROKEN UP

Blue Funnel Ship Well
Known Here Recently
Scrapped in Italy

Many who remember the Blue Funnel Line S.S. Agamemnon of thirty years ago would probably not recognize her in the Italian ship Impero, which was recently broken up in Genoa. She was one of the famous class which Scotts, of Greenock, built, her sisters being the Ajax, Achilles and Deucalion, which were a considerable improvement on the Aeneas class. Single-screw ships of about 7,000 tons, they followed the Holt principle of a good speed and could always be relied upon for their thirteen knots.

They were specially designed for the Far East trade, carrying a certain number of passengers in addition to their cargo, and had a deadweight capacity of 8,800 tons. The Agamemnon was the second Blue Funnel liner of that name, the first having only recently been scrapped, and she went to sea on the Oriental service when commissioned.

For years she was operated regularly in the Holt service, principally to the East, keeping free from accidents in a satisfactory manner until 1910, when she stranded during a fog on the coast of County Down. During the war she was chased by a submarine off the southwest coast of Ireland, but beat her off with her gun without difficulty, and like all fast cargo carriers, she was requisitioned by the Shipping Controller.

As soon as she was released, she returned to the Yokohama and Dutch East India service, with an occasional diversion, until 1927, when she was sold to Italian buyers for £16,750. Under the name of Impero she had been tramping ever since.

Foreign tramp ships
Get Large Share of Ocean-Borne Cargoes

Keen observers of the daily freight fixtures are finding material for comment in the ever-increasing proportion of foreign tramp tonnage chartered for the carriage of bulk cargoes, as compared with British cargoes, as a shipping correspondent writes a shipping correspondent.

Many British-owned vessels after being sold to foreign owners have at once obtained cargoes from British shippers to the South Wales coal ports. Cargoes of heavy chemicals are practically all carried to Spain from Great Britain by Scandinavian and German tramp steamers. Tramps sailing under the flag of Panama, Latvia, Poland, Greece and Yugoslavia carry coal from South Wales to the Mediterranean and South America, and grain, ore, phosphates, or other bulk cargoes homeward.

West Indian sugar is carried in Norwegian boats to Great Britain and Canada. Foreign vessels have been chartered to carry full cargoes of sugar from South Africa to Montreal, and these will most likely carry full cargoes of wheat from the St. Lawrence to Great Britain and Ireland. Full cargoes of lumber are freely loaded by Canadian shippers in Norwegian trampships for carriage to the River Mersey. There appears to be something wrong with a section of British tramp shipping.

ANTICIPATE RISE IN RATES ON ATLANTIC
LINERS BEFORE LONG

BERLIN, Sept. 9.—Believing the recent Atlantic fare cuts to have been a mistake, Hapag and Lloyd have the intention of raising their rates during the coming months. It is understood that present financial results for these companies are good, passenger traffic for July having been quite satisfactory and large. Freight business, however, remains small.

Though both companies have succeeded in operating without deficit in recent months, due to the economies put into operation, it is quite possible that when passenger travel tapers off in the winter the lines will again have to ask the Reich for subsidies, as they have only small reserves.

SPANISH REFORMS PASS
MADRID, Sept. 9 (AP).—Two projects affecting the future course of the Republic Spain became a reality early today when the assembly put through the "agrarian reforms" and the statute granting limited autonomy to the rich province of Catalonia.

Agrarian interests in Czechoslovakia plan to organize semi-official syndicates, which will regulate imports and maintain domestic prices.

Doing Everything Possible to Encourage Shippers
VANCOUVER, Sept. 9.—Effective October 1, a 3 per cent surcharge will be assessed on all intercoastal freight between United States points, according to advice the traffic department of the Board of Trade has received from New York. This affects British Columbia cargo as well, both east and westbound to and from United States centres.

Decision to establish the surcharge was made by United States intercoastal conference. It is understood the aim is to create additional revenue to be used for modified pooling arrangements similar to those now in effect in rail traffic under emergency action taken last January by permission of the United States Interstate Commerce Commission. This was done to aid American railways in special need of financial help.

Will Jinx Follow New Record Holder?

WILL the pilot in the winning speed plane in the Thompson Trophy race at Cleveland this year be speeding closer to his death? This race, exceeded only by the Schneider Cup races, for which England holds undisputed leadership, has seen only one winning flyer survive a crash. In the last two years both winners have perished in the same plane in which they made their records. The race has been run three times. The first winner, Douglas Davis, crashed three months after he had made his record. The following year, Lowell Bayles flew at a speed of 225 miles an hour to win, but a few months later he, too, crashed while attempting to raise his own record. The following year, Charles "Speed" Holman, crashed three months after he had made his record. More Than 12,000,000 Bushels
Loaded Into Warehouses Along
C.P.R. Tracks in Three Days

WINNIPEG, Sept. 9.—More than 12,000,000 bushels of grain have been marketed on Canadian Pacific Railway western lines within the last three days, or more than double the number of cars covering the same period last year, according to a statement made today by H. C. Taylor, the company's western superintendent of transportation.

With improved weather conditions, said Mr. Taylor, the marketing and loading of the new crop in the grain belt are now in full swing. Exactly 12,000,000 bushels of grain have been poured into the country elevators along Canadian Pacific lines during September 6, 7 and 8 as compared with 5,770,000 for the same dates last year.

The large increase is made up of 2,978,000 bushels in Manitoba district, 4,525,000 bushels in Saskatchewan and 4,698,000 bushels in Alberta, an average of 1,190 cars a day.

Grain stocks in country elevators now total 19,500,000 bushels, showing a substantial increase during the last three working days.

Vancouver Shipping
VANCOUVER, Sept. 9.—Ms. Loch Monar, of Royal Mail Lines, Captain H. P. Womersley in command, is due with 1,000 tons the United Kingdom and Continental cargo.

Yamashita Shipping Co. reports to St. Oregon Maru due to commence to load for Japan.

Blue Star Line Ss. Empress will arrive at West Vancouver on Saturday to load 1,200 tons of spelter, and some general, for British ports. She will not make the Vancouver call.

American Mail Line reports Ss. Everett out via Washington ports for South China ports and the Philippines.

Y.Y.K. Ss. Yokohama Maru arrived at 7 o'clock this morning to load cargo for Japan and China. It is the last time the ship will be in the port, as she will be withdrawn from this service when she completes her present voyage.

Danish East Asiatic Ms. Panama is coming up Coast, due September 25. While at Panama, August 31, she loaded a sixty-one-foot motor boat for Vancouver. The big launch is stowed on the motorship's deck.

Tokio Newspaper Spon-

Will Flight

The Hochi Shimbun of Tokio is promoting a third attempt to fly across the Pacific Ocean, this time with a Junkers long-distance land plane. Not satisfied with the failure of two attempts, the president of the Tokio daily is financing the third undertaking. In addressing a letter to The Colonist, Seiji Noma, anticipating that the plane might land here, requests that the flyer be assisted in every way possible.

"In undertaking the flight, Mr. Noma writes, 'we have no other object than the promotion of international friendship and the contribution of our mile to the development of the international air routes.'

"We have planned three trans-Pacific flights this year, but so far we have not been favored with good luck. The first attempt by our staff aviator, S. Yoshihara, with the Sato 'Cutty Sark,' an amphibian, originally scheduled for June from San Francisco to Tokio, ended in failure through the smashing of the plane in May 1931 during his last test flight on the aviation ground at Oakland, California. The aviator himself was badly hurt.

"The second flight, intended to be a nonstop attempt from Seattle to Tokio, which was to be undertaken by our staff aviators, the late Captain Yoshinori Nagaya and Kanekichi Asai, with a Bellanca long-distance plane, also ended in failure. During a test flight over the Floyd-Bennett aviation ground at New York, the plane crashed, involving the death of Captain Nagaya.

"The plane will start from Bishiro (Aomori), with landing place at Cape Nome and Fairbanks, Alaska, and with possible stops at White Horse, Yukon, Hazelton and Seattle, the goal being San Francisco. The crew will be made up of two aviators, first class navigator, Eichi Baba, first class pilot, and Tomoyoshi Ishita, radio operator."

ASAHI ROSE OUT SONS IN FIRST GAME OF SERIES

Ellsworth Vines Reaches Final in U.S. Championship

Defeats Clifford Sutter in Five Sets, 4-6, 8-10, 12-10, 10-8, 6-1—Darkness Halts Cochet Vs. Allison Semi With Each Having Two Sets

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Sept. 9 (AP)—Ellsworth Vines, Jr., won his way into the finals of the United States tennis championships today, but it took the Pasadena pouter so long to subdue Clifford Sutter, New Orleans collegian, that night set in before Vines and Sutter could begin their match. The match was a dramatic one, but it took the Pasadena pouter so long to subdue Clifford Sutter, New Orleans collegian, that night set in before Vines and Sutter could begin their match.

The famous Frenchman and the American Texan each had won two sets when it became too dark longer to see the ball. Cochet won the first set 6-1; Allison the next, 12-10, and 8-4; and Cochet the fourth, 6-3, in a brilliant exhibition of tennis.

They will resume their duel at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, the winner of the deciding set to face the pugnacious Vines later in the day for the championship. If Cochet beats Allison, whom he conquered in the recent Davis Cup matches, the final will be at the early hour of 2 p.m., as the French star has to catch a boat.

TURBULENCE RATTLE
Vines caused all the grief when he struggled for three solid hours in eliminating Sutter, as turbulent an adversary as you will see. The scores were, 6-8, 10-12, 10-8, 6-1, and if Vines holds the title a dozen more years, he probably never will be closer to defeat than he was several times in those third and fourth sets.

The Cochet-Alison affair provided the better tennis, but Vines and Sutter supplied the dramatics for 16,000 spectators in the big stadium. Twice in the third set Sutter was within two points of victory as the crowd sat tense, mute with the prospect of facing the twenty-year-old champion dethroned.

How evenly Sutter battled his noted rival may be gleaned from the fact that of the seventy-five games played he won only five less than Vines. Only in the final set, where "Slim" at last struck his best stride and Sutter obviously was weary of it, was Vines able to win conclusively.

The Texan proved his mettle in winning the long, deuced second set after he had made a weak showing in the first. He battled Cochet for the better part of an hour as game followed service through the twentieth game, then put over a series of smashing shots to break the Frenchman's delivery and win, 12-10.

BOBBY MYERS WILL APPEAR ON MAT CARD
Welter Champion to Show in Main Event Tonight—Blake to Face Sparks

Bobby Myers, world's welter-weight champion, of New York, will make his initial appearance before wrestling fans this evening at the Pacific Stadium, Limited, Yates Street, when he climbs through the ropes to exchange holds with Eddie Madrick, Buffalo, in the eight ten-minute-round bout on Promoter "Winnipeg" Chilton's weekly card. Myers is one of the fastest lads in the game and is expected to attract the fans. In the five eight-minute-round semi-wind-up Ronald Blake, bewhiskered grappler from Denver, will take on Al Sparks, Salt Lake City, while two local lads will appear in the curtain raiser at 8:45 o'clock. Rocky Brooks will be the third man in the ring.

All four exponents on the card will appear in the main event, which will be a closely watched. Myers won the world's title some time back and since has defended it against the best in the game. In Madrick, the champion will be meeting a tough customer and will have to be on his toes. Blake is classed as a fine showman and is expected to give the fans plenty of action in his mix with Al Sparks.

Promoter Chilton has made a new offer to the fans this week, admitting women, with escorts, free.

TO DROP PASSES
This afternoon at 3 o'clock Promoter Chilton will drop pamphlets and several passes for the show from the seaplane which flies between here and Seattle. The tickets will be thrown over the city, and the fans will make a special trip to carry Victoria's 350-pound promoter.

From 6:15 until 6:30, Promoter Chilton will interview the wrestlers over CFCB.

DRAW RELEASED FOR CUP GOLF
Play to Open Tomorrow in Sharnland Trophy Meet at Gorge Vale Golf Club

CRICKETERS TO MEET IN CRUCIAL TILT

Victoria-Wanderers Match May Settle League Championship Today

Victoria and Wanderers will clash in an important cricket match this afternoon at Work Point Barracks, in which the championship of the Victoria and District League may be settled. With two matches left on the schedule, Victoria has a single-point margin in the standings and a victory today will give them the title.

While the above teams are playing at the barracks, Five O's and Cowichan will meet in their last league match at Beacon Hill Park, while Albions and Incega will tangle at University School grounds. All matches will start at 2:15 o'clock.

Victoria will line up as follows: Goward, Saxton-White, Meredith, Hoag, Cox, Craddock, H. Edwards, Symons, G. Wilkinson, R. Edwards and Peberdy.

Cup Tournament To Open Monday At Colwood Club
Thirty-two fair sex golfers will tee off in the annual Campbell Cup competition at the Royal Colwood Golf Club Monday. Two matches will be played each week and some keen competition is expected before the winner is declared.

Draw follows:
Mrs. Howard vs. Mrs. E. Watson.
Mrs. Craine vs. Mrs. E. McQuade.
Mrs. Gonnason vs. Mrs. Leeming.
Mrs. D. Spencer vs. Mrs. G. MacKenzie.

A 120-mile bridge—the bridge extending over 120 miles in Flanders became a necessity as a result of one of the most thrilling episodes in the First Battle of Ypres, fought between October 18 and November 10, 1914. The Allied Armies were retreating toward Dixmude with the victorious Germans relentlessly pursuing them. To frustrate the invaders the Allies took what is probably the most heroic step in martial history. They cut the dikes and unleashed the floods of the North Sea against the German armies. As the field of battle became flooded, the Germans presently became mired in the bog. Their artillery was swept away, a large number of men were drowned, and the survivors scrambled anxiously to the few small pieces of high ground. The most elementary force known to man thus repelled the invaders, but the Allies had to restore contact with the enemy over a pontoon bridge 120 miles long, covering the flooded area.

Edison's Clock—The faceless clock, which once belonged to Edison and which is now kept in the recreated group of Edison in Dearborn, Michigan, expressed the great inventor's conviction that a scientist's work is measured not by chronology but by results. It was also his humorous rebuke to "clock-watchers."

Two Championships in One Year—Edward Lee of the New York Athletic Club, has been playing billiards only six years, but has been in tournament play for two years. In 1931 and 1932 he has been the National Amateur three-cushion billiards title holder, and was the first American to compete in the world's amateur billiards tournament when he played at Vicby. Not only is he proficient with the cue, but has also become famous in aquatic sports. For the years 1923 and 1931 he was the National A.A.U. Long Distance Swimming Champion, holding both billiards and swimming titles the latter year. Lee is the only athlete in the annals of the New York Athletic Club to hold two national titles simultaneously.

A team of marksmen from the P.P.C.L.I. defeated a squad from H.M.S. Delhi in a special team match fired yesterday afternoon at Heals Range by 542 to 494. The match was of the service order and was fired at four stages, application of the service order and rapid fire at 300 yards and fire at movement from 500 to 100 yards. The possible score was 800. The teams were:
Navy—Lieut. Orpen, Auger, Davies, Heath, Eastlake, Mulhail, Robinson and Lewis.
P.P.C.L.I.—Major Colquhoun, Capt. Wallis, S.M. Mitchell, Q.M.S. Wood, Sergt. Smith, Cpl. Cahill, Pte. Pattison and Pte. Shaw.
Lieut.-Col. H. W. Niven, D.S.O., M.C., refereed the match.

Midweek Soccer Loop Will Meet Next Thursday
The annual meeting of the Victoria and District Soccer Football League will be held at the Y.M.C.A. on Thursday, September 15, at 8 o'clock. Delegates from the league's teams and any other interested in entering the loop are requested to attend.

Jasper Park Lodge, Alta., Sept. 9—Canada lost her chances to retain the famous silver Totem Pole Golf Trophy today when the quarter-finals were played. Jack Starkey, long-hitting Edmonton player, fell before the steady stroking of Major Martin, Ireland, 4 and 3 in the top half. In the lower half J. G. Bigelow, of Regina, lost on the sixteenth and 3 to 2 to M. A. Pollack, Jr., of Havana.

Martin and Pollack will meet in the final on Saturday morning to decide whether the trophy will be won the next twelve months in Havana or Northern Ireland.

In the women's championship Mrs. Sayward-Wilson, Victoria champion, won the title by defeating Mrs. R. A. Madson, of Edmonton, 5 and 4.

ERRATIC FIELDING PROVES DOWNFALL OF LOCAL CHAMPS

Costly Infield Errors at Critical Moments Give Vancouver Japanese Initial Fixture of Senior "A" Play-Offs, 5-4—Suga and Holden in Fine Displays—Second Game Today

AKING advantage of four costly infield errors, Vancouver Ashahis, Terminal League champions, took a one-game lead in the British Columbia senior play-off, last night at the Royal Athletic park by chalking up a 5-4 victory over the Sons of Canada, local pennant winners, in the first of a three-game series.

A large crowd watched the teams battle through nine fast innings. This afternoon at 2 o'clock on the same grounds, the teams will clash in the second fixture, and the third, if necessary, will get under way at 5 o'clock. Survivors of the series will face New Westminster Fraser Cafe in another two-out-of-three series in the Royal City.

Loose infielding was the downfall of the local champions. Cliff Hilton, at third, was charged with two costly errors, while Kim Campbell, at first, was guilty of a like number that helped the diminutive Japanese along to their close decision.

George Suga, star left-hander, went to the mound for the victors, and his deceptive change of pace during the first eight innings had the local hitters baffled. The Sons got to him in the ninth and bunched two hits for three runs. He struck out three and gave two walks. Leo Holden pitched fine ball for the locals, but his support in the pinches was poor. Holden fanned five and walked one. The Ashahis collected six hits and strung five, two of which went for extra bases.

Play by play description follows:
FIRST INNING
Ashahis—Shirashis safe on Hilton's bad throw to first. He stole second and was sacrificed to third by Tanaka. R. Yasui flied to Haines in right field and Shirashis scored. Blossom fanned.

SECOND INNING
Ashahis—Emery fanned. B. Yasui singled to centre field. Suga flied to Holman. Holman forced B. Yasui at second.

THIRD INNING
Ashahis—Shirashis flied to Holman. Shirashis flied to Doherty. Tanaka fanned.

FOURTH INNING
Ashahis—R. Yasui grounded to Holden. Blossom fanned. Emery fanned.

FIFTH INNING
Ashahis—B. Yasui singled to centre field. It was his second hit of the game. Suga sacrificed. Holman flied to Doherty, who made a beautiful running catch just behind third. Shishido grounded to Saville.

SIXTH INNING
Ashahis—Shirashis flied to left field and stole second. Tanaka grounded to Holden. Shirashis going to third on the play. Shirashis caught between third and home and was finally run down. Bacon making the putout. R. Yasui flied to Doherty.

SEVENTH INNING

COAST LEAGUE SOCCER SEASON TO OPEN TODAY

Cubs Widen Lead in National League by Downing Braves, 5-2

Chicago Stretches Margin Over Idle Pirates to Six Full Games—Warneke in Twenty-First Victory—Phillies Nose Out Cardinals

NATIONAL LEAGUE
BOSTON, Sept. 9 (AP).—The Chicago Cubs increased their lead in the National League pennant race to six games today as they defeated the Braves, 5 to 2, in their clash, while Pittsburgh was idle.

Lonnie Warneke, young right-handed pitching sensation, held the Braves in check to win his twenty-first game of the season, while Chicago made two well-timed attacks on Hank Bevis, Boston's veteran "rookie." Warneke gave nine hits but allowed the Braves few chances to turn them into runs. Bevis was touched for twelve safeties, seven of them bunched in two innings.

The Cubs got off ahead in the third with two tallies. Warneke singled and stopped at third on English's double. A single by Gudat, who played right field in place of Hazen Cuyler, brought both in. Cuyler injured a leg sliding home yesterday. R. H. E. Chicago 5 12 1 Boston 2 9 0

Batteries—Warneke and Hartnett; Betts and Spohrer.

Cards Lose Again
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9 (AP).—Hurt's scratch single off Reese's glove in the twelfth inning scored C. Davis from second base and gave the Phillies a 3-to-2 victory over St. Louis today. The Phils thus made a clean sweep of the three-game series here. Bottomley's homer with Medwick on base in the first inning, scored the only St. Louis run. The Phils scored one run in the first inning on doubles by Bartell and Hurst and tied the score in the third on a two-bagger by Bartell and an error by Wilson.

Yanks Lose Twice
DETROIT, Sept. 9 (CP).—The Tigers outclassed the Yankees in another baseball marathon today and won both games of a double-header, 14 to 13 and 4 to 1. The first battle went fourteen innings, like yesterday's opener, and required more time, 4 hours and 2 minutes. The second was called because of darkness as soon as the necessary four and one-half innings had been completed.

The double defeat clipped a full game off the Yanks' lead over the Philadelphia Athletics, but they still are twelve and one-half games ahead and need only four triumphs to clinch the pennant.

Leo Gehrig drove in eight runs in the first game, tying the American League record which he had

World Series Will Start Sept. 28 at Yankees' Stadium

New York Will Be Scene of First Two Games—Third, Fourth and Fifth Expected to Be Played at Chicago Cubs' Enclosure

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP).—If, as appears likely, the Chicago Cubs furnish the opposition to the New York Yankees, records for attendance and gate receipts figure to be shattered in the forthcoming world series, which, it was decided today, will open on Wednesday, September 28, at the Yankee Stadium.

Since the Yankees last appeared in the series, in 1928, the big Bronx ball park has been enlarged so that its seating capacity is 69,946 and the maximum "gate," $234,000, figured on the customary championship scale of $1.10 for bleachers, $3.30 for reserved portions of the grandstands, $5.80 for reserved grandstand seats and $6.50 for box chairs.

Meeting today with Commissioner Landis to arrange details for the forthcoming world series, the managers decided to make no change in the price of tickets. Thus, a capacity turnout for the opener or at any other game in New York will eclipse the record of 69,000 cash customers, set at the Yankee Stadium in 1926, and the mark of $224,130 for gate receipts, made in 1928 at the same park.

Representatives of the Yankees, led by Colonel Jacob Ruppert, and the Cubs, for whom President William Veeck acted as spokesman, manifested principal interest in the discussion of world series arrangements. No other American League club was represented but Pittsburgh and Brooklyn, still possessing mathematical chances in the National League race, had their delegates on hand for contingent purposes.

START SEPTEMBER 28
Assuming the Yankees coast in and meet either the Cubs or the Pirates, the first two games will be played September 28-29, at the Yankee Stadium. The next three will be played October 1, 2 and 3, if Chicago is the battleground for the National League, or September 30, October 1 and 2, if Pittsburgh gets in. The sixth and seventh games in New York will be played October 5 and 6, with the Pirates involved.

Allowing for the miracle of Brooklyn winning the National League flag, the series would open a day earlier, September 27, at the Yankee Stadium and continue daily. All games will start at 1:30 p.m., standard time.

At Wrigley Field, Chicago, temporary bleachers adding about 9,000 and extending capacity to 51,000 will be erected, according to President Veeck. This makes a "gate" of slightly over $200,000 possible.

John A. Heydler, president of the National League, and William Harbridge, president of the American League, voiced confidence the world series would be a "sellout" and break all records, if it goes to six or seven games.

Here is a delightful story which Seymour Hicks, the famous actor, is fond of telling.

Driving up to the theatre at which he was playing one night, he found the house full, and a small crowd of people who had been refused admission.

Two Fixtures Will Feature Opening of Newly Formed Loop

Esquimalt to Meet Victoria West at Beacon Hill and Saanich Thistles to Oppose Victoria City at Central Park at 3 o'clock—H.M.S. Delhi to Meet All-Star Eleven

The 1932-33 soccer season will bow itself on the calendar this afternoon. Two matches will feature the opening of the newly-formed Victoria division of the Pacific Coast Football League, while an all-star team representing the I.F.A. will oppose the H.M.S. Delhi, visiting British battleship's eleven, in an exhibition feature.

In the Coast League, Esquimalt, city champions last year, will oppose Victoria West on lower Beacon Hill grounds, with Saunders in charge, and Saanich Thistles will face Victoria City at Central Park, with Stewart handling the whistle.

The all-stars and Navy are booked at Heywood Avenue Park, with McMillan officiating. All matches will start at 3 o'clock.

Fans are expected to watch with great interest the outcome of the Coast League fixtures and the showing of the various players in their season's debut. The four teams have been working out regularly during the past month and will go on the field with their squads in good condition. Plenty of new material will be seen in action at both games.

NEW MATERIAL
Esquimalt have signed several new players with hopes of bolstering their championship eleven of a year ago. The dockers have secured several Garrison players along with two or three juniors and should go a long way in quest of the division honors.

Victoria West, Saanich Thistles and Victoria City have all secured new blood and their strength will not be known until later in the season. The Thistles will start the season with Wes Harper, former full back, in goal, Tommy Bridges, of last year's team, having hung up his shoes for good.

The majority of their mainstays are back in harness, which means they should make it interesting for the opposition.

Victoria West will be just as strong as ever with Harry Youson, Terry Peers, Pat Mulcahy and Bob Shanks wearing the greenhorns again, while Victoria City have secured the services of Gordie Chalmers for goal and have strengthened up considerably on the back and front divisions. Chalmers played with the Jokers last season. City have more new players than any of the other clubs and will need close watching throughout.

ALL-STARS STRONG
With a strong side selected, the all-stars of the I.F.A. are expected to give the clever visiting Navy eleven a good run for their money in the exhibition tussle. H.M.S. Delhi have played two games since their arrival and have won both, defeating Esquimalt, 7-4, and the Navy, 1-0.

Line-ups:
Saanich Thistles—Harper, Wilms, Viggers, McKenzie, Arncliffe, Joe Crowe, Jim Grose, R. Williams, H. Williams, S. Butler, Burns, F. Price, Leggett, Embrey, Hogan and Tooby.

Victoria West—Hood, Moody, Wright, Lomandini, Peers, Stewart, Connorton, Youson, Border, Cockin, Shanks and Mulcahy.

community system of life, they will probably again work themselves up into the same kind of religious frenzy.

ANOMALIES
Comparison of treatment meted out to the Doukhobors and that given ordinary prisoners was made, with a view to indicating some of the anomalies. Mr. Menzies maintained that the Doukhobors had very successfully "ruled the Government's bluff." In other words, the Government had no serious intention, he claimed, of extending the Doukhobors' sentence from six months to three years, but the Doukhobors, content with the free keep and free transportation which they received last Winter in New Westminster, did not object to the longer period.

"As citizens we want to know how much is being paid for these children and who is paying it," Mr. Menzies said. The newspaper reports quoted the Government as paying $4 per week for the maintenance of each child, but that was only part of the truth, for as a matter of fact each child in Vancouver was costing the Government nearly $30 a month. Even at the cost of $4 per week per child the total cost for the 250 children for a year amounted to $52,000, he declared.

CHINESE MAT EXPERT WILL SHOW WARES

Leong Tin Kit to Clash With Sharman—Anderson Faces Lewis

Leong Tin Kit, Chinese strappler, who made a great showing in the middleweight tournament held recently in Seattle, will display his wares to local fans this evening at the Tillicum gymnasium when he slacks up against Hy Sharman, flashy mat expert from Salt Lake City, in the six 10-minute-round main event at 8:45 o'clock.

Des Anderson, Seattle's pride, will make his return to the local ring after an absence of several weeks when he tackles Jack Lewis, Chicago, in the five 10-minute-round semi-wind-up. Local lads will open the card.

Tin Kit is one of the few Chinese wrestlers in the game. He is highly rated, having scored victories over several of the leading middleweights in the Northwest. Sharman has shown here during the last two weeks and has made a host of friends for his clean, scientific way of mixing. Anderson has been going at a fast pace since his last appearance, losing a tough match to Jack Gorman in the final of the Seattle tourney two weeks ago. Jack Lewis has just arrived in these parts and has been showing in headline bouts in Seattle with great success.

FINANCE - COMMERCE - MARKETS

Security Prices Recede Again at New York Mart

Wheat Prices Gain Slightly

Eastern Exchanges Close Softer After Erratic Fluctuation

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP).—Stocks again felt the pinch of selling orders today, but not until the list had gone through a fairly general rally.

Trading was most active in the last hour when holders were taking profits and when offerings for the short account seemed to be on the increase. Many brokers thought a reaction would at least have the merit of strengthening the technical position, also, they wondered how much higher the market could be expected to go without fresh impetus from business news.

Cotton hardened to the extent of nearly a dollar a bale; otherwise developments in commodity circles were few.

Taking the day as a whole, stocks moved irregularly. When the tone was better it was the rail group that did most of the leading. Although a few specialties jiggled upward.

At its best the general list was 1 to 3 points higher. The range of net losses was not quite so wide, averaging only a decline of 1.7 for ninety leading issues, in a turnover of 4,038,110 shares.

Net recessions amounted to around a point in U.S. Steel, American Telephone, Allied Chemical, Case, Woolworth, Consolidated Gas and North American. Anaconda, Kennecott and American Smelting were heavier; so were National Biscuit, United Aircraft and Westinghouse.

Detention took little notice of its dividend cut, the possibility of which was made known three months ago.

Activity in the bond market dwindled and prices in the final hour showed an inclination to drift irregularly lower.

Some of the industrials gave a fairly good account of themselves and a number of the better grade utilities improved moderately. The railroads, however, showed no early appearance of firmness, lost their enthusiasm.

Sales totaled only $10,507,000, par value, and the average for sixty corporate bonds was two-tenths of a point.

The United States government department was fractionally higher. Foreign obligations were somewhat reactionary, especially the Germans, French, Polish, Argentine and Australians.

Winnipeg Market Absorbs Heavy Offerings With Futures 1-8 Higher

Winnipeg, Sept. 9 (CP).—Wheat rounded off a week of valiant standing up to hedging pressure on the Grain Exchange here today by absorbing 6,500,000 bushels more of grain hauled to country points on Thursday and ending fractionally higher for the day. All futures were up 1-8 from the previous closing.

October closed at 55, December at 56 1/8 and May at 61 3/8.

Export demand was not as broad as it has been for the last few days, but a good business was done nevertheless and sales were reported by New York interests to be more than 1,000,000 bushels.

In addition there was good buying of Winnipeg wheat at Chicago by traders engaged in spreading operations.

Apart from a small quantity of No. 1 hard wanted to complete a cargo, cash interest in wheat was indifferent, and all grades were lightly offered. Trading in all cash coarse grains was slow, with little offerings and restricted sales.

Close Softer After Erratic Fluctuation

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The Montreal Stock Exchange listings followed an erratic course today, displaying a soft trend at the close as a result of heavy selling in Wall Street during the last hour.

Canadian Pacific finished the day at 12 3/4, up 1-8, after touching 12 7/8 both in the morning and in the afternoon. Canadian Pacific fluctuated between 12 1/2 and 12 7/8, closing at 12 3/4, off 1/4.

Montreal Power showed narrow changes throughout the day, but finished unchanged at 38.

International Nickel was 5-8 lower at 11 3/4.

Consolidated Smelters gave an erratic performance. The stock touched a low of 87 during the first two hours of trading, reached a high of 95 1/2 in the early afternoon and dropped to 90 again, where it closed.

Lake of the Woods and Dominion Glass were firm, both advancing a point to 9 and 78, respectively.

Abitibi preferred was 7-8 higher at 1 1/2.

Abitibi common was off 1-4 at 1 3/4. Canadian Cement off the same amount at 5 and National Steel Car off 3-8 at 12 3/4.

TO LEARN BY HEART

We have an inquiry as to the origin of that so-familiar phrase from our childhood days, "learning by heart," or learning by rote or committing to memory.

We may regard this an old expression because we know it so long. But it is far older than we think in fact one of the oldest phrases in the English language of actual English origin. For his source is in Chaucer, who has been called the "father of English literature," his work dating back to the fourteenth century. It is from one of his "Canterbury Tales," "Troilus," in the fifth book, that we have "To learn by heart."

Out of six lighted cigarettes dropped from an airplane at 1,000-foot altitude in a test in Europe recently, three were found on the ground some time afterwards still burning.

The city of Westminster, near London, contains four square miles which has just been valued at $15,000,000,000, equal to $115,000 per head of population.
